Demo Leaders To Review Tax Cut Possibility

Anti-Recession Program Mapped

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (AP) — Democratic leaders in Congress went to work on a 10-point anti-recession program today and also planned to review the possibilities of a tax cut this year.

Sen. Johnson of Texas, the party's chief in the Senate, has asked the chairmen of six key committees there to come up quickly with legislative proposals aimed at relaxing credit, multiplying public works projects and generally creating more jobs.

House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) disclosed the plan to have another look at the tax structure in the light of Tuesday's report that almost 4½ million Americans are unemployed.

Cut Depends On "Ifs"

Rayburn told a news conference the Democratic leaders would review the situation and see where a tax cut, if there is one, will do the most good, and determine whether the budget will stand it.

One measure advocated by Johnson is a post office construction bill. President Eisenhower proposed a two-billion-dollar modernization program for the postal service earlier in the week.

It would be financed mostly by private capital, with the government contributing 175 million a year for three to five years if Congress approves a five-cent rate for intercity first-class mail.

Sen. McNamara (D-Mich.) attacked the Eisenhower plan today as "a crude attempt to black-mail Congress."

"Booby Traps" Charged

"This so-called public works program," he said, "has the outward appearance of a forthright administration step to combat the recession but it is loaded with booby traps."

"This mirage of a public works program is divided into two parts. Part one commits the government to spend the princely sum of 175 million dollars a year," he went on.

"Giving this modernization program an anticrecession coloration is simply a crude effort to black-mail the Congress into raising postal rates on first-class mail."

The second part of the program, involving private capitalization, "is grossly inadequate to fight the recession," McNamara continued.

21 Escape Death When Airliner Crashes, Burns

PALM SPRINGS, Calif., Feb. 13 (AP) — A twin-engine Western Airlines transport, making its daily run from this desert spa to San Diego, crash-landed and burned just after takeoff this afternoon.

Authorities said 18 passengers and the crew of three ran to safety after the Convair transport slid to a stop. Flames then destroyed the ship.

One person was reported injured. The scene is about 10 miles north of here on flat desert land not far from the hamlet of Garnet.

Palm Springs police said they had a report a big black puff of smoke was seen in the sky just before the plane went in.

Two Lady Giraffes Win Legal Nod Over Benson

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (AP) — Two lady giraffes today won a legal victory over Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

But one of them won't be able to celebrate it. She died from a heart attack while under detention at the government's quarantine station in New Jersey.

The U.S. Court of Appeals ruled that Benson acted arbitrarily in refusing to let the two giraffes move on to a residence at a private zoo, "Africa U.S.A." in Boca Raton, Fla.

The giraffes carried their plight to court via Jack James Pedersen, who operates "Africa U.S.A." They came to the United States from Kenya, East Africa, along with three companions. All are detained for a time, but the other three were sold and released to public zoos.

DIES ON LEDGE—A search party sent back word yesterday that 14-year-old Donald Burns (above) had been found dead. The boy plunged to a ledge in the mountains about 30 miles from San Bernardino, Calif., during a hike Wednesday. Efforts to reach the youth were unsuccessful.

Boy, 14, Rescue In Sight, Dies On Calif. Peak

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., Feb. 13 (AP) — Sheriff Frank Bland radioed his office that a 14-year-old boy died on an icy mountain ledge today while a crack mountain-climbing team made a desperate effort to reach him.

Teams of sheriff's deputies and Air Force men tried in vain to save the boy, Donald Burns of nearby Colton. Bland said rescuers were working to bring the body to the top of the canyon wall.

Young Burns slipped while hiking and fell from a footpath onto a ledge 300 to 400 feet down the wall.

A member of the mountain-climbing unit, John Matthews, reached the boy about 4:13 p.m. He radioed Bland the youth was dead.

A Marine helicopter lowered a stretcher to Matthews, who planned to stay on the icy perch with the body until joined by other rescuers.

No sign of life had been detected since a weak hand wave and a cry early today.

Sheriff Eugene W. Biscaillet of neighboring Los Angeles County sent the Sierra Madre mountain-climbing team, a group of experts to the scene.

After attempts to reach the boy from the bottom of the canyon or the top had failed, a helicopter tried but air turbulence prevented it from getting close to the boy.

Yesterday was a school holiday, Lincoln's Birthday, and Donald, of nearby Colton, was hiking with schoolmates when he slipped on an ice-crusted trail running to the head of a waterfall in Big Falls Canyon.

This was at the 5,000 foot level of 11,485 Mt. San Geronimo, 35 miles east of here.

He waved and shouted for five hours before darkness set in.

Young Rapist Given 120 Years In Prison

CHICAGO, Feb. 13 (AP) — An 18-year-old rapist was sentenced to 120 years in prison today by a judge who said any lighter term "would jeopardize the safety and well being of other women and children."

Judge Julius H. Miner of Criminal Court ordered two 60-year consecutive sentences for Gerald Chatman, Negro convicted a week ago of raping a 20-year-old woman in December. On Tuesday he was convicted of raping a 30-year-old mother of two children in November.

Pennsylvania Asks More Surplus Food

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 13 (AP) — Pennsylvania today asked for more federal surplus food to meet what it called a rise in needy cases attributed to unemployment.

Andrew M. Bradley, property and supplies secretary, said the increase in persons applying for the free food amounted to 40,000 or 7 per cent during the last three months.

He said in a statement that he thought the increase reflected increased unemployment.

An additional 108 freight carloads of cheese, dried milk, rice, white flour and corn meal has been requested from the U.S. Department of Agriculture by the State Division of Surplus Foods, Bradley said.

Tunisians Threaten War

But Bourguiba Says Door Open To Mediation

TUNIS, Feb. 13 (AP) — President Habib Bourguiba declared today, "We are ready to make war for Bizerte." But he held open the door to mediation by the United States of Tunisia's quarrel with France.

The President also suggested in a broadcast to his tense nation that, while he is determined 15,000 French troops stationed in Tunisia must go, the big French naval base at Bizerte might still be used by the North Atlantic Treaty powers.

Tunisia Calls For U.N. Meeting

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Feb. 13 (AP) — Tunisia's delegation tonight asked for an early meeting of the U.N. Security Council to discuss a French air raid Saturday on a Tunisian border village.

Tunisian Ambassador Mongi Slim, in asking Council President Arkady Sobolev of the Soviet Union to call the meeting, suggested that the Council discuss "an act of aggression by France against Tunisia."

Sobolev planned to consult other Council members before calling the meeting. Speculation was that it would be Monday or Tuesday.

That base and French army garrisons are blockaded. Jittery Tunisian civilians and national guardsmen, patrolling with light arms, manned roadblocks to prevent the movement of French troops. They threatened to fire on any French ships attempting to enter or leave Bizerte.

Raid Brought On Crisis

Bourguiba's blue eyes flashed as he spoke on this sixth day of a crisis brought on by a French air raid on the frontier village of Sakiet Sidi Youssef.

Tunisia put the toll at 88 men, women and children killed, 84 wounded and 10 not accounted for. The French said the raid was to punish Algerian rebels who had fired on French planes from their border hideouts in Tunisia. But several diplomats, including U.S. Ambassador G. Lewis Jones, are reported to have confirmed that there were heavy civilian casualties.

Using international reaction to the bombing as a springboard, Bourguiba has been trying once again to force withdrawal of French troops who remained in the country when France recognized Tunisian independence nearly two years ago.

"We are ready to go to war if French ships force their way into or out of Bizerte," he declared in his broadcast.

Independent Country

"Today I am president of the republic, but if it is necessary, I would be the first to take to the brush with the freedom fighters."

"The French have not understood that our country is independent and that it is inconceivable that a foreign army can live freely on our soil and receive orders from others than us."

"How can one explain to the inhabitants of Sakiet Sidi Youssef the presence on our territory of this same army which bombarded their village?"

But at the end of his broadcast he was asked by a French reporter whether he would withdraw his complaint to the U.N. "If France would accept the mediation of the United States to return harmony."

Bourguiba replied, "Yes, I would."

Together For Time, At Least

Robert Backover and his daughter, Paula Ann, huddle over a book at their home in Washington, together now but possibly not forever. Backover, free on $2,000 bond, is charged with taking $1,598 from a Hyattsville, Md., bowling alley where he worked. He returned from California voluntarily to face the charge after reading a newspaper account that his six-year-old daughter was incurably ill with leukemia. Backover has received offers to help repay the money so he might remain free and at his daughter's side.

British Rush Work On Wonder Missile

LONDON, Feb. 13 (AP) — Britain announced today its scientists are rushing work on a new wonder missile of medium range that can be fired with a nuclear war load from underground bases. The weapon was billed as superior to those in the U.S. arsenal.

The announcement also disclosed that British air fleets are being equipped with hydrogen bombs made in Britain.

These were the salient points of a government White Paper prepared by Defense Minister Duncan Sandys. It constituted an interim report on a five-year program initiated last year to streamline the defense forces for the nuclear-missile age.

In blunt language the White Paper warned the Kremlin that any Soviet aggression would force the West to hit back with strategic nuclear weapons from bases which will dominate every target of importance in the Soviet Union.

It declared there was "no military reason why a world conflagration should not be prevented for another generation or more through the balancing fears of mutual annihilation. In fact, there is no reason why all this should not go on indefinitely."

This would, however, be a mournful prospect, the report said. It emphasized that the only way to change the prospect is for the East and West to agree on comprehensive disarmament by all nations, coupled with comprehensive inspection and control by a world authority. "Nothing less than this makes sense," it said.

Sandys' sweeping review warned that the West's success in avoiding global war by the strategy of nuclear power poses other dangers.

"The very success of the deterrent compels the Communist powers to seek to achieve their stated goal of world domination by other methods," it said. "It must therefore be expected that they will now increasingly concentrate their efforts upon political subversion, economic penetration and, where the risks to themselves are not too great, indirect military action."

The Syrian success of the deterrent compels the Communist powers to seek to achieve their stated goal of world domination by other methods," it said. "It must therefore be expected that they will now increasingly concentrate their efforts upon political subversion, economic penetration and, where the risks to themselves are not too great, indirect military action."

Syrian newspapers quickly expanded the brief statement into charges that the United States is financing the alleged plot and that Turkish and Israeli troops were ready to invade to help.

La. Segregationists Dealt Triple Blow

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 13 (AP) — The U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals today dealt three legal blows to state and city officials trying to keep racial segregation in Louisiana schools, colleges and parks.

In separate decisions, the court: 1. For the second time upheld a lower court decision ordering New Orleans to desegregate its public schools.

2. Turned down the appeal of the Louisiana State University Board of Supervisors and the Louisiana State Board of Education. The school and the board want to keep Negro students from entering LSU, Southeastern, Southwestern and McNeese State colleges undergraduate schools on a permanent basis.

3. Agreed with a lower court decision that forbids the New Orleans City Park Improvement Assn. to keep Negroes away from park facilities.

Young 'Hoods' Invade School, Rob 7 Students

NEW YORK, Feb. 13 (AP) — Two six-foot youths armed with a knife and a chair leg invaded a Bronx junior high school today and robbed seven younger students of about $6, four wrist watches and a ring. The students were not molested.

"These weren't juvenile delinquents. They were adult hoods," Principal Harry Flaum asserted angrily.

This was the latest incident to occur in a city school system plagued in recent weeks by rapes, assaults, stabbings and delinquency.

Police said the invaders, both Negroes—one about 16 and the other about 18—pushed their way past a monitor at the play yard entrance in the rear of Macombs Junior High School 82 at West 176th Street and Macombs Avenue.

They then went to the top floor of the four-story building and seized their victims — six boy monitors between the ages of 12 and 14 and a 13-year-old girl—on the way to afternoon classes.

The students were herded from a corridor to a staircase landing and told:

"Give us what you've got and you won't get hurt."

The students handed over their valuables, and the robbers fled. Each robber was described as about six feet tall and weighing about 140 pounds. One had a goatee and the other a thin mustache.

Principal Flaum said this was the first such incident at the school since he became its head nine years ago.

The school has 1,790 students—both white and Negro.

Shaver Price War

Cold Spell Unusual? Not So, Weatherman Says

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 13 (AP) — "What gives with this weather? Hard freezes, record snows down South. Teeth-rattling cold and persistent snowfalls up North. Fog, rain and minor flooding in California."

"Nothing unusual," says a district forecaster, Robert Sanders. "That is," he added, "if you look at the weather over a span of 20 years like we do. People forget."

Directly responsible for the current cold spell, he explained, is a giant bubble of arctic air which burst over the Great Plains in January and drained off, slowly seeping southward.

"It was so cold and deep something had to give," he said.

D. M. Hansen, acting chief forecaster at the district meteorological office here, concurred.

FCC's Mack Got Payoff, Inquiry Told

Schwartz Charges Commissioner Paid $2,650 In TV Case

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (AP) — Atty. Gen. Rogers today directed the FBI to investigate charges that FCC Commissioner Richard A. Mack received money from a lawyer interested in a case before the Federal Communications Commission.

An aide said Rogers "acted on his own motion" after House investigators heard testimony that Mack admittedly accepted several thousands of dollars from a lawyer active in getting a Miami television license.

A brief announcement by the Justice Department said Rogers ordered a complete investigation of the allegations.

Mack was not available to newsmen. He was absent from a full scale session of the FCC assembled to hear final oral arguments in a Toledo TV channel case. Aides told reporters there was no statement from Mack at this time.

Schwartz Testifies

Bernard Schwartz, ousted counsel to the House Legislative Oversight subcommittee told the group Mack has described the money as loans — but has said some were "forgiven" by the lawyer and he has "no specific recollection" of repaying any of them.

Schwartz appeared as a subpoenaed witness before the committee which fired him last Monday night. He produced from the committee files canceled checks totaling $2,650 which he said were given to Mack by Thurman A. Whiteside after Mack became a member of the license-granting commission.

Schwartz said Whiteside has a reputation in Florida as a "fixer" and that he represented Public Service Television Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of National Airlines.

Whiteside Denies Charge

At Miami, Whiteside commented: "Schwartz is a g-d-d liar. He is lying in his teeth. He is testifying contrary to the information in his possession."

Whiteside said he had never been a fixer and that he was never employed as an attorney in the television case.

In the case, Public Service Television, Inc., was granted Miami's Channel 10 franchise by a 4-2 vote of the FCC. Mack was one of the four commissioners who gave public service the nod over three other applicants despite an FCC examiner's report that Public Service was the least qualified.

Mack could not be reached for comment. Rep. Harris (D-Ad.), new chairman of the House subcommittee, said he will be given a chance to tell his version and if he withholds any information "there will be ways to get it."

Governors Ask Ike Take Steps To Halt Slump

AUGUSTA, Maine, Feb. 13 (AP) — Eleven Democratic governors told President Eisenhower today that "only enlightened federal action can prevent the recession from feeding on itself and deteriorating further into a depression."

They urged a six-point program including public works, welfare and educational expansion, further easing of credit and possibly a tax cut "directed to low-income families."

They offered their "full cooperation in taking the action necessary to put us once again on the path to an expanding economy."

Gov. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, one of 11, said it is "essential that prompt and alert attention be given to present conditions."

Also signing the telegram to the President were Govs. McNichols of Colorado, Loveless of Iowa, Furcolo of Massachusetts, Williams of Michigan, Freeman of Minnesota, Meyner of New Jersey, Harriman of New York, Holmes of Oregon, Roberts of Rhode Island and Rosellini of Washington.

Embarrassing Error

LONDON, Feb. 13 (AP) — The British War Office learned with some embarrassment today about the picture on their new army recruiting poster.

Model for the "soldier" on the poster is Derek Partridge, a Royal Air Force veteran. What's worse, he was the RAF recruit of the year in 1954.

Icy Wind, Snow Patches Greet Ike In Georgia

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Feb. 13 (AP) — President Eisenhower today traveled 765 miles seeking warm sunshine. Instead he found bone-chilling weather and remaining patches of this south Georgia area's first measurable snow, in nearly half a century.

But if the President was disappointed he didn't show it in stepping from the private plane, Col. umbine III, which brought him from Washington.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower both had broad smiles for their hosts, former Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey and his wife.

This is the President's fifth February trip to the Humphreys Milestone plantation since 1954. He is here—weather permitting — for quail and turkey hunting and some golf.

The sun was bright on Eisenhower's arrival at Spence Air Base at Moultrie, Ga., about 30 miles northeast of Thomasville. But the temperature at the airport was a nippy 34 degrees and the wind was cold and gusty.

The wind was so gusty, in fact, it nearly blew Mrs. Eisenhower's small gray hat from her head.

The President came south in the hope of shaking a cold which has been bothering him since early this month. He was snug in a heavy oxford gray overcoat and a blue muffler with a white figure. He wore a dark gray hat.

Breadlines Return To Chattanooga

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Feb. 13 (AP) — The City Relief Bureau today passed out surplus food to 176 families representing 925 persons and said other distributions will be made later.

"This is the second time in my public career that I have seen food distributed here at Warner Park," Mayor P. R. Olgiati said in a talk to the waiting line of over-coated men and women. The first time was in 1935, he said.

The food given to certified needy families came from five boxcars, Olgiati said.

Blue Cross Is Efficiently Operated, Delegates Told

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 13 (P)—Doc- mittee the rate increase request- tors, hospital authorities and Blue Cross administrators today as- pital costs. Dr. Everett S. Diggs, speaking for a delegation of doctors repre- senting the Maryland Medical and Chirurgical Faculty, and the medi- cal profession feels "Any abuse of Blue Cross (by doctors or hos- pitals) is very limited."

Dr. Russell Nelson, director of Johns Hopkins Hospital and chairman of the legislative com- mittee of the Maryland Hospital Assn., said Blue Cross hospitals are all private, non-profit organi- zations with management vested in boards of trustees. Maryland subscribers.

Del. Cannon (D-Wicomico), chairman of the House Banking, Insurance and Social Security Committee, said he will ask the attorney general for a ruling on whether the state insurance com- missioner has authority to check on the propriety of hospital costs when considering a Blue Cross rate increase request.

The Blue Cross petition is under consideration by the commission- er and will be acted on after a public hearing.

Cannon said he will also ask the attorney general if the Legis- lature could give the commission- er authority to spot-check hospi- tal records and analyze hospital costs, if he does not already have such authority.

Federal Court Indicts Ousted Cuban Leader

NEW YORK, Feb. 13 (P)—Carlos Prio Socarras was indicted anew today, accused of continuing revo- lutionary activities against the man who ousted him as president of Cuba, Fulgencio Batista.

Conviction on the federal court charges could lead to Prio's ex- pulsion from his country. He was granted asylum here on condition that he not break any American laws.

Prio said the charges as he heard them "are not true." He called them "a great comfort for dictators in Latin America."

Indicted with Prio on charges of violating American neutrality laws were eight others in this country. All are accused of plot- ting sabotage and assassination against the Batista regime, ship- ping arms and men to the support of Cuban rebels and seeking to set up rebel training centers in the Dominican Republic, Mexico, Haiti and the United States.

Maximum sentence upon con- viction is five years in prison and fines of $10,000 each. Prio was fined $9,000 in 1954 for smuggling arms to Cuban rebels.

Batista has claimed that Prio is behind Fidel Castro, who for more than four years has kept an intermittent turmoil in Cuba as leader of revolutionary guerrilla forces.

President Batista seized power in Cuba in a 1952 revolt that ousted Prio from the presidency. The latter fled into exile. As an avowed foe of the Batista regime, Prio has never concealed his hat- red for his rival nor his hopes for the regime's eventual over- throw.

Prio makes his home in Miami Beach but is in and out of New York frequently.

Goodyear Plans New Plastic Film Plant In West Va.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13 (P)—Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. will build a nine million dollar plant in West Virginia to manufacture a new plastic film. Called videne, the film can be applied under heat and pressure to a wide variety of products in numerous industries.

President E. J. Thomas said the plant will be built at Apple Grove, W. Va., to manufacture the polyester laminating film.

The plant will occupy about 100,000 square feet and is expected to be in full production by spring of 1959.

Videne A will be produced for direct or stretch-laminating appli- cations in the textile, metal, wood, paper, plastic, automotive and packaging fields. Thomas said, and as a special wrap (videne te) for machine packaging of meat and other food products.

Probe Of Mine Tragedy Begins

MAN, W. Va., Feb. 13 (P)—Work- ers tonight reentered the Lundale Mine of the Amherst Coal Co. to clean up the slate fall that killed five of their buddies last night.

An investigation was launched, meanwhile, into the cause of the tragedy but was recessed after a visit by state and U. S. mining officials to the scene.

The investigators, including West Virginia Mines Chief Crawford Wilson, also heard brief tes- timony from several witnesses. They will reconvene tomorrow in the mine office.

Elsewhere, relatives of the dead made ready for funeral services here and in Kentucky.

A. H. Newland, division service superintendent, who admitted to about an hour of sleep since Wed- nesday morning, said the work of clearing the heavy fall was being started on the night trick.

This was the trick on which the five, trapped without warning under an estimated 560 tons of slate, were crushed to death at 6:20 p. m. Wednesday.

Glen Burchett, about 40, was saved by the coal loading machine on which he was working. The machine was almost flattened but withstood the crushing impact of the fall enough to provide a crawl space from which he was pulled alive.

'Top Brass' Discuss U.S. Space Program

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (P)—A top-level meeting on the nation's military space program was held today at the Pentagon. It appar- ently was concerned with organi- zation plans for the Advanced Re- search Projects Agency.

Roy W. Johnson, General Elec- tric Co. vice president who will leave his company post about April 1 to direct the new govern- ment agency, attended the meet- ing.

Others meeting with Defense Secretary Neil McElroy were Dr. James Killian, special assistant for science to the President; Wil- liam Holaday, Defense Depart- ment guided missile director; and Paul D. Foote, assistant defense secretary for research and engi- neering.

U.S., Like Britain, Plans To Build Some Missile Sites Underground

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (P)—The United States, like Britain, plans to put some of its ballistic missile launching sites in protect- ed, underground pits, to reduce the possible damage from enemy attack.

An official British White Paper, issued in London today and out- lining military progress in the United Kingdom, said Britain is developing a medium-range bal- listic rocket more advanced than those the United States now pos- sesses, and is designing it for launching from underground sites.

Pending arrival of copies of the White Paper, American military officials were reluctant to com- ment.

It was assumed here the ad- vanced type of missiles mentioned is a solid fuel design. If so, this would mean that British mis- siles have followed normal pro- cedure of skipping a generation of weapons, profiting by Ameri- can work on liquid fuel rockets, and the new trend in American design toward solid fuel propel- lants.

British and American experts are collaborating closely in solid fuel rocket designing. Groundwork for collaboration such as this was laid in the mutual weapons de- velopment program for NATO aid, announced in 1955.

Both the U.S. Navy and Air Force are well advanced in solid fuel design and the Army has an- nounced it will begin production of the "Pershing" solid fuel rocket eventually to replace the present liquid fuel Redstone 200-mile range bombardment missile. The Air Force Thor and the Army Jupiter intermediate-range bal- listic missiles, both of 1,500-mile range, are liquid propellant. The Navy Polaris IRBM is a solid fuel missile.

'Spaceman' Well On Way 'Home' From 'Moon' Trip

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 13 (P)—The Air Force today announced plans for more simulated flights beyond the wild blue yonder into outer space as its first test en- tered the home lap.

Airman Donald Farrell of the Bronx, N.Y., who entered the compact space cabin at Randolph Air Force Base last Sunday at 9:35 a.m., passed the 100-mark at 1:35 p.m. today, well on his way on the mythical return trip to earth from the moon.

The seven-day flight is sched- uled to end Sunday morning.

Farrell was pronounced fit and fine in every way by Air Force scientists as he started his fifth day at 9:35 a.m. today.

The airman's alertness, fatigue factor and cheerfulness were as good as when he entered the space chamber, according to Lt. Col. George R. Steinkamp, head of the Department of Space Medicine, School of Aviation Medicine, at Randolph.

Unassuming Little Minister Dedicates Life To Furthering Christian Unity

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

He is a gentle, quiet man, rather small in physique, but the results of his work stand tall and wide today among churches around the earth.

His name is Samuel McCrae Cavert, and his story, in a sense, is a strange one.

He shuns the methods of big organizations, yet he shaped the administration of America's biggest Christian organization. He rarely ever gave orders, yet gained immense authority. He has an old-fashioned reserve, yet he's been a leader in a modern church revolution.

As Episcopal Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill once put it: "They don't make many like Sam Cavert."

For about 37 years, he's labored at his job — the restoring of closer community among the separated, scattered denominations of the faith. Now, with the lines of contact re-established and humming, he has stepped aside.

"He has given his whole life to the purpose," said the Rev. Dr. Henry P. Van Dusen, president of Union Theological Seminary.

"When the final account is written, I think the judgment of discerning historians will be that he had more influence than any single man on the Christian unity movement in this country."

Dr. Cavert retired for the second time Jan. 1. The first was in 1954, from the chief executive post of the National Council of Churches, and now, from the top U.S. office of the World Council of Churches.

"This time, it's going to stick," he said.

But to people he had worked with through the years, the Rev. Dr. Cavert, now 69, is a continuing force, a sort of living legend. They describe him in terms like "unique greatness" and "everyone knows he is a saint."

He is a slender, 5-foot-8 man, with white hair, a trim-clipped mustache, and thick black eyebrows. His blue-gray eyes have warmth, and his voice is soft.

"It's a marvelous face," said Donald Bolles, National Council press director. "It has a gentleness that's the source of his power — a quality the world calls weakness."

"And when he smiles, it's just as if he embraced you, not the Emily Post way, but in terms of Christ's love. It's not a pious impression, but an aura . . . so that when you talk with him, you always go away feeling like a better guy."

He has a brisk alacrity to his movements, a kind of running walk. He's hard to keep up with. In his travels, he is on the go constantly.

He dislikes office gadgets, such as buzzers and dictaphones, and never used them. He devours books endlessly — about 35 a month. His daughter Mrs. Harold Ramsay, Schenectady, N.Y., says her typical picture of him is in an armchair, engulfed with books and proof sheets.

His main characteristic, says a long-time associate, Dr. F. Ernest Johnson, is his selflessness.

Yet this unassuming little Presbyterian minister, born in Charlton, N.Y., has sown some broad church fields.

Almost from the start of the ecumenical movement for Christian solidarity, he's had a major part in the historic conferences that have paved the way — at Jerusalem, Oxford, Edinburgh, Utrecht, Amsterdam and Evanston, Ill.

He was on the 14-man committee that planned the world body, and at its founding assembly in 1948, it was Dr. Cavert who gave the new organization of 165 denominations in 50 nations its name.

In this country, beginning in 1919, he guided the reins of the American counterpart of the movement, first in the Federal Council, and later in charting and administering the new-born National Council after 1950.

"More than anyone else, he did the basic architectural work in translating vague ideas for Christian cooperation into working systems," said Dr. Roswell P.

Barnes, his successor as head of the U.S. Conference of the World Council.

"In my estimation, his has been the most significant contribution a dozen people to do. Sometimes I thought he didn't need a secretary at all."

Yet, to people around him, Dr. Cavert never seemed the big-wheel type.

"He doesn't know how to be waited on," said Aenid Sanborn, his secretary for 27 years. "He did all the things we now have to do. Sometimes I thought he didn't need a secretary at all."

He always looked up telephone numbers for himself, checked his own train schedules, and would jump up from his desk to consult references. When he wished to talk with someone, he went to their office, rather than summoning them.

He finally consented to letting his wife Twila say: "I never argue with them. He is. Beyond — as a "concession to bigness," his being a delight and joy as a unity, he says: "I hope I've had

At home, his official duties husband, I can say objectively some little part in it. I hope done, Dr. Cavert reviews a steady that I never came across any enough progress has been made stream of books, and is doing human being I admired so thor- to give promise of further advance in the future."

All and all, Dr. Cavert is something of a paradox, by the conventional standards of leadership. When people call him a "saint," More as a servant, he has filled the role of a master.

As for his service to Christian unity, he says: "I hope I've had some little part in it. I hope stream of books, and is doing human being I admired so thor- to give promise of further advance in the future."

SRC Head Slaps Out At Restrictive Bills

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 13 (P)—State roads officials said today a bill to give local governments veto over highway policy decisions would create a "chaotic roads system."

"I can imagine no step that would be more damaging to the State of Maryland than that proposed," SRC Chairman Robert O. Bonnell told the Senate Judicial Proceedings Committee.

"It would make it impossible for us to maintain limited access roads already built."

Bonnell also spoke against other bills which would abolish boards of property review set up two years ago and require legislative approval for designating a highway limited access.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Joseph D. Buscher said the limited access restriction would be "a great step backward" and would "make a shambles of Maryland's participation in the federal interstate program."

To get 90 per cent federal aid for such projects, the highways must be built to dual lane, controlled access standards.

Buscher also urged the senators to let the property review boards function for another year so they can get a "fair test." He said they are achieving their primary

Civic Center Site Foes Win In Court

BALTIMORE, Feb. 13 (P)—Opponents of the city's plan to build a multi-million dollar civic center in Baltimore's Druid Hill Park won a legal battle today.

Circuit Judge Reuben Oppenheimer ruled that the ordinance selecting the site in Northwest Baltimore was illegal. It was a victory for Atty. Hyman Pressman and 100 others who had filed the taxpayer's suit challenging City Council's action.

The nub of Judge Oppenheimer's decision was that the Park Board has "charge and control of the city parks . . . and the mayor and City Council have no legal authority . . . to transfer jurisdiction over the area from the Park Board to any other city agency."

Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro said the decision would not be appealed. He also said it would mean additional funds must be raised "since it is the view of competent city officials that an adequate civic center cannot be built with the 6 million dollars on hand unless free land is available."

Judge Pulls Out Of Senate Race, Supports Bruce

BALTIMORE, Feb. 13 (P)—Judge Nellie Marie Marshall withdrew as a candidate for the U. S. Senate nomination and gave her support to James Bruce in the Democratic primary.

She previously had announced she would pull out of the May primary and run as an independent in the November general election.

She said in a telecast speech that she "would never have considered for one moment withdrawing" if Bruce "did not measure up in every respect to what I stand for and demand in a candidate."

Judge Marshall said she was influenced to support Bruce because of endorsements by such Democratic leaders as former Gov. W. Preston Lane Jr., former U. S. Sen. George Radcliffe, Clarence W. Miles and former Baltimore Mayor Howard Jackson.

She called this spontaneous harmony rather than "manufactured harmony for political expediency."

The Orphans Court judge obviously was referring to a Democratic ticket on which Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro is running for the Senate nomination. He had filed originally for governor and switched races in the interest of harmony, he said.

FBI Finds Prints In Bandits' Car

BALTIMORE, Feb. 13 (P)—The FBI said today some fingerprints have been found in the getaway car used in a $35,289 holdup of a suburban branch bank.

Also being processed by FBI laboratory technicians were various objects the bandit purportedly touched during his four-minute stay in the Sparrows Point branch of the Provident Savings Bank.

The robber lined up four employees and five customers with a pistol while he had a teller put the money in a laundry bag.

The insuring company has offered a $2,500 reward.

Head Of URW Will Address Local Unions

Members of labor unions of this section will hear the general president of the United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers of America, at a dinner and political education meeting Saturday, February 22, at 6 p.m. in the City Shrine Club.
He is Leland S. Buckmaster, head of approximately 200,000 rubber workers in the United States.

Buckmaster is being brought here by the political education committee of Local 26, United Rubber Workers which represents workers at Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant here.

The national president's last visit to Cumberland was in 1945. He will speak on political action as needed by the working man, according to the committee.
He will explain the O'Sullivan Rubber Company strike at Winchester and the investigation he has asked in that dispute.

Buckmaster will also tell of labor's efforts to delete Section 303 of the Taft-Hartley Act. Through this section of the law, workers on strike are prohibited from participating in National Labor Relations Board representation elections, the committee pointed out.

The speaker went to work with Firestone Tire and Rubber Company in Akron after World War I as a tire finisher and builder. When large-scale union organization began in 1933, Buckmaster became a shop committeeman and later a member of the executive board of the AFL Federal Labor Union in the Firestone plant. In 1935 he was elected president of Local Union 7 of the newly-chartered international Union, United Rubber Workers of America.

The following May he became a member of the international union's general executive board and held the position continuously until September 1941 when he was elected general vice president.

In September 1945, Buckmaster became general president upon the resignation of Sherman H. Dalrymple. He has been re-elected at each succeeding annual or biennial election.
From 1945 to 1955 Buckmaster served as a vice president of the CIO. In December 1955 he was elected a member of the merged AFL-CIO. He is now serving on the AFL-CIO standing committees on international and veterans affairs and civil rights.

Stanley Zorick, secretary-treasurer of the Western Maryland Labor Council, will be toastmaster.

Mayor Roy W. Eves, who has accepted an invitation along with other members of the City Council, will welcome Buckmaster to the city.

William Allen, Washington, legal representative of the Rubber Workers, will also attend the dinner meeting.

Tickets are available at Local 26's office on North Mechanic Street.

Rabies Infected Foxes Reported In Allegany County

An outbreak of rabies among foxes in Allegany County was reported yesterday by Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden.

The outbreak was discovered following receipt of a report from Dr. R. B. Shillinger of Hagerstown, state veterinarian, who was sent the skull of a fox that was shot several days ago after it attacked a pet dog at a home on Backbone Mountain near Bloomington. Microscopic examination of the skull showed presence of rabies, Dr. Shillinger said.

The most recent outbreak of the disease occurred in 1955 when several pets in the county were attacked, and several persons narrowly escaped being bitten, Minke recalled.

Any attack by foxes on persons or animals should be reported to game wardens immediately, Minke said.

Democrats Have Only One Candidate Seeking Office

With just a little over three weeks remaining until the March 10 deadline, only one Democrat is numbered among the 19 candidates who have filed for county offices.

He is James P. Russell of Mt. Savage, who seeks election to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners. The remaining 18 Republicans includes six who are unopposed to date for offices, two who seek election as state senator, six for county commissioner, and four for the House of Delegates.

In an effort to persuade Democrats to file for office, the Democratic State Central Committee of Allegany County has called a meeting Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Algonquin Hotel.

Democrats interested in entering any of the contests for county positions should either attend the meeting, or contact a member of the State Central Committee to announce their intentions. Thomas B. Finan, chairman, said.

Opposing Russell for election to the three-man Board of Commissioners are W. A. Strother and

Two Baltimoreans Held For Robbery

ATLANTA, Feb. 13 (AP)—A restaurant operator opened fire with a pistol at two holdup men last night. One surrendered immediately and the other was picked up a short time later.

Detective J. H. Barnes said Frank Winn fired three times as the two entered a car after taking $20 from him at his Marietta street establishment.

Police said Edward Clayton Pollard and Walter Bradford Fike Jr., both 21, of Baltimore, Md. are held on suspicion of robbery. Winn told police one man put what he believed was a knife against his back and told him they needed $20. After turning over the money, Winn said he was ordered into a back room. He shot at them as they left.

Fred B. Driscoll, Cumberland, incumbent David J. Williams of Midland, who was appointed to the delegation last fall, and Irvin C. Alexander, Lonaconing. The deadline for filing for county positions is March 10. Finan pointed out, and the primary will be held May 20.

BUSH DOCTOR

Speaking of wide practices, 54-year-old Dr. Paul Rivard of Clova, Quebec, Canada, has one that perhaps tops them all. His practice embraces 20,000 square miles of Canada's rugged northland. He is physician, friend and advisor to 6,000 lumbermen and Indians living in the snow-packed forest of the Abitibi region.

Though a great deal of his routine medical work is carried on in the well-equipped 12-bed hospital at Clova, Dr. Rivard is happiest when ranging his far-flung bailiwick. He travels by rail, snowmobile, airplane, snowshoe and dogsled to bring modern medicine to snow-bound logging camps or lonely Indian hamlets. The tough, skilled physician has travelled 350 miles to reach someone in need of medical aid. An experienced "ham" radio operator, he has often used radio equipment to contact patients.

Dr. Rivard is pictured here, treating patients and making his round of calls in the snowy north.

Dr. Paul Rivard answers patient's phone call at his home in Clova. He has travelled hundreds of miles to reach someone in need of aid.

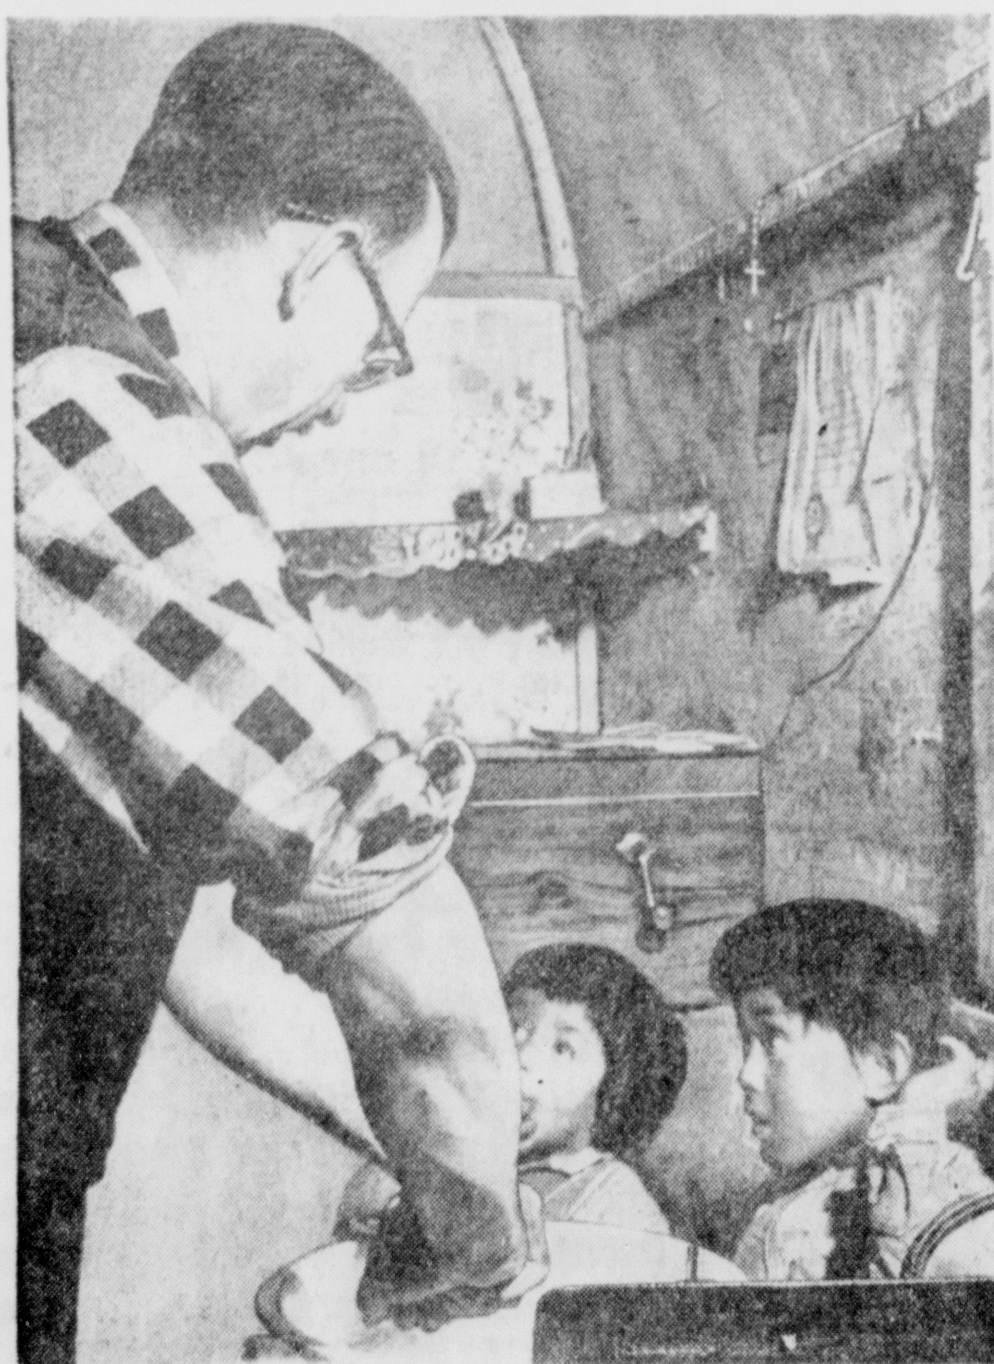

Dr. Rivard sets out by dog sled to attend Indian patient in the bush.

Bundled warmly against the bitter cold and snow, Dr. Rivard arrives to take care of an injured lumberman in the deep bush country.

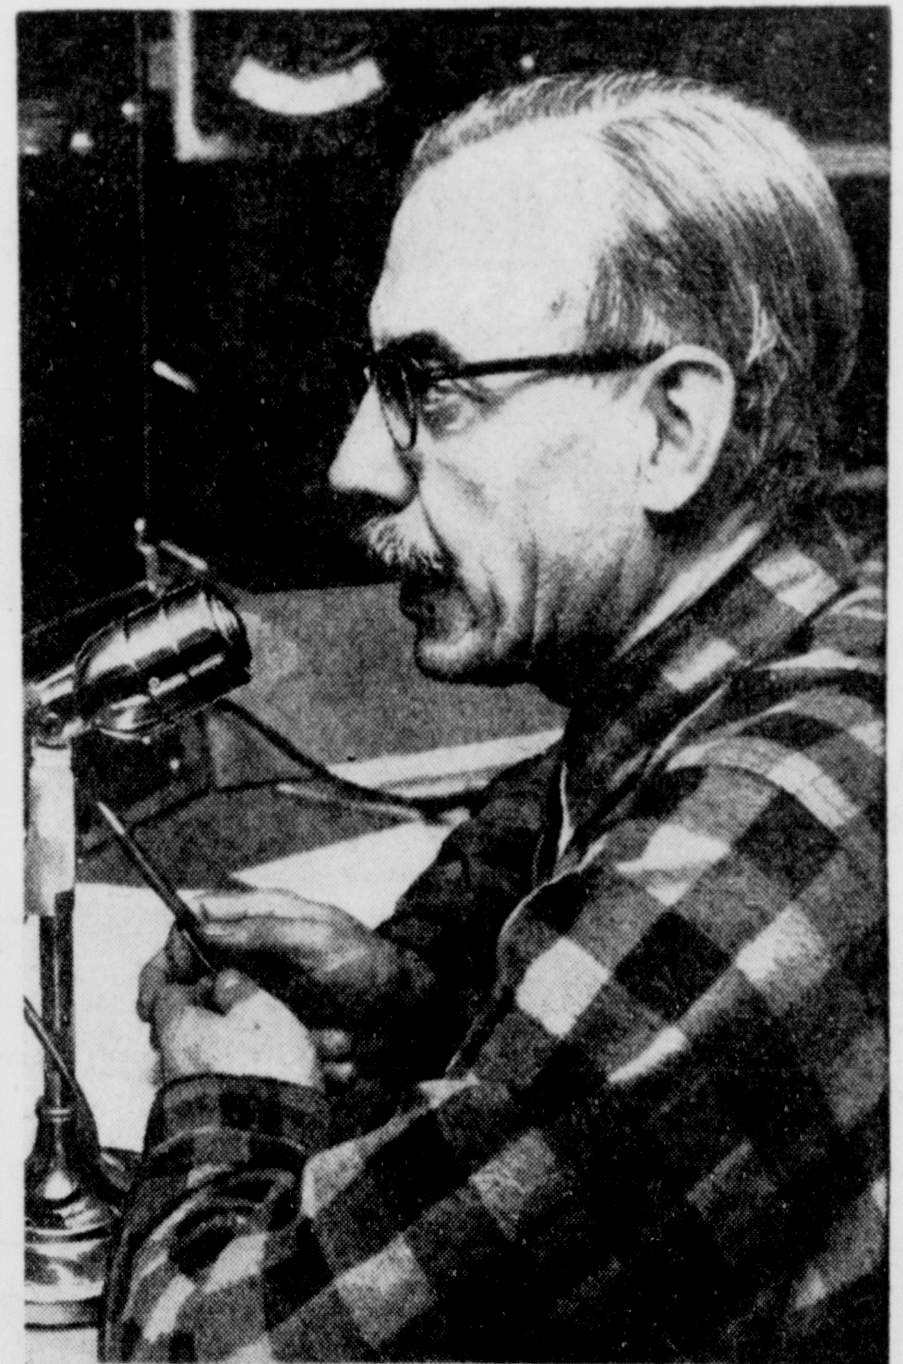

Injured man is carried out of the bush by fellow lumbermen after the doctor, right, has given him preliminary examination at scene of accident.

Indian children watch the doctor wash his hands before performing emergency operation on their mother at home.

While the parents look on, Dr. Rivard examines small Indian patient in his office at hospital in Clova.

He also keeps in touch with his patients by radio. He has six transmitters, five receivers and two antennas.

Church Names Guest Speaker

Rev. Houston will speak on the benevolence phase of the missionary program of the brotherhood of Christian churches.

He also will speak at services Sunday at 11 a. m. at First Christian Church, Romney, W. Va.

Rev. Houston is the field representative for two of these homes which provide care for members of the Christian church in this area.

Beall Says Cut Threatens 29th

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (AP)—Defense Department plans to cut the National Guard were described today by Sen. Beall (R-Md.) as a threat to the 29th Infantry Division.

In a speech prepared for the Senate, Beall said 35,000 volunteers were lopped from the Guard rolls last spring and "now come reports of another 40,000 slash."

"In my own state of Maryland," he added, "the Army's proposal would strip our historic militia by 2,000 men. Indeed, it threatens the very existence of our beloved 29th Infantry Division of World War II fame."

Bedford County

tified there were bloodstains on Mellott's trousers.

Mr. Smith then said Mellott explained the stains were probably received when he wrestled with Showalter. However, earlier Mellott had testified he did not wrestle with Showalter.

Altogether the defense called 13 witnesses with most explaining Mellott's actions before and after the crime. Several testified that they had seen Mellott at the Showalter house on numerous occasions and one stated he saw Mrs. Showalter with Mellott in the latter's car. He said she ducked to avoid being seen.

Defense counsel William H. Snyder and Charles M. Koontz indicated at the end of yesterday's hearing that they had nearly completed their case. Koontz said one or two more defense witnesses might be called today.

Senate Rejects

tax revenue now dedicated to the authority but that the State property tax would have to be pledged as a backstop in order to market the bonds.

The House ran into snarls on public school driver training for adults and tax exemptions on manufacturers' stock and machinery.

A resolution which would permit the use of vocational school funds for auto driver training was pulled back from passage stage and side-tracked to the Ways and Means Committee.

Del. Culver (D-Balto County) raised the question of whether public schools should compete with private business in offering driver training.

"If a person can afford a car, he certainly can afford to pay to learn to drive it," said Culver.

Del. Boone (D-Balto County) noted the delegates only minutes earlier had passed a bill to charge commercial instructors of drivers a $5 license fee.

Approved For School
"You're asking them to contribute $5 to put themselves out of business," commented Boone.

The House did pass a bill to require driver training for all high school students.

A vetoed bill of 1957 that would require legislative approval for changes in the existing taxes on manufacturing in the counties had the delegates confused.

The Senate already has overriden Gov. McKeldin's veto.

Boone, who urged the House to do likewise, said he thought legislative approval would be needed only if a county wanted to increase present taxes.

But other delegates felt that the bill also might force county governments to seek approval to lower them. Action on the veto was postponed until Tuesday while clarification is sought from the attorney general's office.

Under a Court of Appeals decision, most counties must now seek legislative approval for any changes.

Form Economy Block
The 26 Eastern Shore delegates pledged themselves in a caucus to oppose any tax increase this year.

They are faced with a proposal from Gov. McKeldin to hike the sales and income taxes to raise 38 million dollars.

The Shore delegates decided not to go on record with a definite program of budget cutting. It was proposed to them that every department be first cut back to this year's appropriation and then a 5 per cent slice be imposed on all.

Instead, the shore group vowed to resist every proposed increase that comes up from now on and vote against a tax hike of any sort.

The finance committees of both houses turned to the request of the mental hygiene department. They heard Dr. Clifton T. Perkins describe his department's 19-million dollar budget for the five mental hospitals as "tight."

The department's new budget calls for a one million dollar increase in spending over last year, 80 per cent of which is due to the creation of 153 new positions.

Marmalade was said to have been made for Mary, Queen of Scots, at the time when she was recuperating from an illness. It was originally called "Marie marmalade."

New Hope For Tax Reduction

Tax reduction proposals continue to crop up in the news from Washington. A new one is the Sadlak-Herlong bill in Congress. It proposes, over a period of years, to rescale income tax rates in a way that will be least restrictive to private enterprise. The theory is that if the government takes less taxes out of pockets that provide the capital to create jobs, there will be a natural expansion of enterprise, a normal quickening of commerce and the government will derive more revenue from increased business activity.

As it is, there is a constrictive effect because of huge capital subtractions from business and industry through taxation.

The Sadlak-Herlong bill calls not merely for a scaling down of corporation and business taxes. It would reduce income taxes, over a prescribed period, all along the line. In a national emergency the rates could be restored. But in the meantime there would be increased purchasing power.

The income tax structure certainly is in need of reform. This should be done with an eye to removing impediments to capital accumulation. Only in that way can there be sound invigoration of the private enterprise system.

There is talk of accompanying tax reduction with enlarged federal spending for any and all projects. That would seriously unbalance the budget and give the nation a stiff shot of inflation. But one of the things the nation can do without is more inflation.

Whether Congress will accept a measure such as the Sadlak-Herlong bill in an election year is to be doubted. To court votes with hand-outs is more in the political tradition. But it is still true that a healthful base for normal American expansion will accomplish more for this generation and those to follow.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Post Office Mess

If an incumbent Postmaster General could be convinced that criticism of the Post Office is not criticism of the Postmaster General, as it cannot be since the difficulties go way back into American history and for which Congress is as responsible as any individual, more progress could be made in rehabilitating this organization.

The Post Office is a business and requires business management. It is also a public service and requires the broad outlook of the first and most usual contact that every citizen has with his government. It is also a source of political patronage for politicians and therefore has undoubtedly been the most abused of all governmental institutions. It is a difficult agency to manage.

The Post Office is neither modern in its methods nor efficient in its operations. The Hoover Reports have established many of the shortcomings of this enterprise. Taking it for granted that the present Postmaster General, Arthur E. Summerfield, is an excellent business manager, he would not operate his own business with antiquated tools and obsolete methods. In most matters, he has practically nothing to say as to what the Post Office should do because he is bound by tight laws passed by Congress over the past century and a half or more.

Senator Olin Johnston, in an article, calls attention to these two facts:

"First, our Post Office was not designed to make money for the government. Created by the Continental Congress in 1775, it was conceived as a service to the people, in contrast to the practice in other countries, where post offices were run as money-makers for kings.

"Second, the money you pay for such Post Office purchases as stamps does not go to the Post Office. Every cent the Post Office receives goes into the general fund of the Treasury. Every cent it spends comes from appropriations by Congress. When revenues are less than the Congressional appropriations, we have the familiar 'Post Office deficit.'"

In a word, the Post Office may not have a deficit at all or the deficit may be larger than appears. The Post Office does not know.

It carries operations for other agencies of government which are charged to it such as the deer and grouse census in Michigan that Senator Johnston tells about. The Post Office registers aliens for the Department of Justice, for instance. The cost of such registration is charged to the Post Office and makes up the deficit. You ought to read Senator Olin Johnston's article in the February "Reader's Digest" to realize how much of this sort of thing goes on.

Two proper special groups are interested in modernizing and rationalizing the Post Office bookkeeping system, if nothing else. One group is the citizens who regard the Post Office as an important instrument of business because of their dependence upon the mails for their services; the other group are the postal workers who are inadequately paid.

As the bookkeeping system of the Post Office, controlled by acts of Congress, is so antiquated that nobody really knows whether there is a deficit or not, everytime there is a public outcry about the size of the deficit or whenever the Post Office employees want higher pay, the only answer seems to be to charge more for stamps and services or to abolish a service. This defeats the purpose of the very existence of the Post Office.

For instance, this year, the question of increased pay for postal employees must come before Congress. The Majority Leader, Lyndon Johnson, in a speech on the Senate floor, warned that when the question of Postal Pay legislation arose, he had been informed by both Republican and Democratic Senators that they would introduce amendments to raise the rates.

The Post Office does not need a profit, but it ought not to claim a deficit unless by the best accountancy methods, a realistic deficit is established. Senator Olin Johnston said:

"... Pay increases for Postal or other Federal employees should not and must not depend on the increased revenues from postage rates. Unless we wish to limit future pay adjustments for the employees of the Agriculture Department until that Department's budget is balanced or of the employees of the Internal Revenue Service unless and until taxes are increased, and so on down the line, we had better not set this dangerous precedent."

How true!

Those Footsteps Make The Path

France Tragically Displays Her Indecision

By Joseph Alsop

PARIS In a tragic manner the bombing of the little Tunisian village of Sakiet Sidi Youssef has underlined all the anomalies of the present French situation.

Here was a military operation whose political penalties were out of all proportion to any imaginable military reward. According to French Foreign Minister Pineau, this heavy attack upon Tunisian territory was never authorized by the French government. Pineau even told this reporter that he did not believe that such an operation had ever been knowingly authorized by the French commander in Algeria, Gen. Salan.

One's first reaction to such statements is simple amazement. It is easy enough to understand the feelings of the French professional soldiers, who have lived through the long and bitter war in Indochina and now find themselves involved in a long and bitter war in Algeria, with Tunisia playing the "protected sanctuary role" that China played before.

But what of the fantastic discipline that is revealed by the triumph of these feelings, by the actual commission of a fairly major act of war, without the slightest authorization from the French cabinet? Who should bear the responsibility of this?

As every American knows who has read foreign comment on the problems of the United States, diagnosing other nations' inner ailments is a pastime which wise men will generally forego.

But in the present instance, this reporter would like to suggest that the fault lies, not really with the soldiers, but chiefly with the politicians.

The defects of the French political leaders is widely underrated. But with the possible exceptions of Gen. de Gaulle on the Right and Pierre Mendes-France on the Left, almost every French political leader is flawed.

An Elmore, Ohio, woman was bothered for a number of years with light hurting her eyes. She was forced to wear glasses, and went to "several eye doctors who helped me as much as you helped your questioner in a recent answer on this subject." In reply to a question I had said photophobia was a symptom of many eye conditions. Our reader continues: "I finally went to a physician who demanded a metabolism test. The reading was low and I started grantly guilty of the same flagrant sin of omission. None of them will get up on their hind legs, in the Chamber of Deputies or else where, and say in so many words: "France cannot have her cake and eat it too."

Several grave issues of policy were posed, for example, when the Algerian rebels began to use Tunisia as an out-of-bounds base.

The most obvious was the simple issue of peace or war. As lately revealed by this correspondent, the French Cabinet finally put this central issue up to the French General Staff. The military had been saying the Algerian rebellion could not be crushed while the Tunisian base existed. So the civilians asked the military whether the Tunisian base ought to be eliminated by the reconquest of Tunisia.

The French Chief of Staff, Gen. Paul Ely, replied unequivocally that the venture could not even be considered, for want of men, the munitions, and the money for the job. The one efficient course of military action against Tunisia was thus ruled out. Logically, that left only a single other alternative, leaving Tunisia alone and strengthening the measures against border-crossing inside Algeria.

But this degree of toleration was in fact insupportable. Hence a kind of creeping border war against Tunisia was begun, which has now produced the Sakiet Sidi Youssef bombing. No one who has much familiarity with situations of this type will believe for a moment that this kind of operation is at all likely to impede the Algerian rebels' use of the Tunisia base. It is an attempt to have the cake and eat it too

Speaker Rayburn Has Wanted To Kill Investigation He Started

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — A proud old man with a great record of serving the United States and with no children of his own is one of the factors behind the abortive frustration of the Congressional committee supposed to probe governmental agencies, but which of late has concentrated on investigating its own eager-beaver ex-counsel, Dr. Bernard Schwartz.

The old man is Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, who loves his two nephews as his own sons. One nephew is Commissioner Robert Bartley, whose name has cropped up in the probe of the Federal Communications Commission. The other is Tom Rayburn, who works for the General Services Administration.

The first nephew is the son of Sam's sister and husband, Mrs. S. E. Bartley, who is extremely close to the Speaker. When the Speaker got Bartley a job with the Federal Communications Commission, he gave him a fatherly lecture on upholding the public interest, admonished him to serve the people, never dishonor the family name.

Speaker Rayburn himself has a great record, to which this column has frequently paid tribute. He was the author of the bill which gave birth to the Federal Communications Commission. He also authored most of the independent agencies in Washington. Sam has probably served the American people more constructively than any other man now in Washington. He has a record to be proud of and he wanted his nephews to live up to the name.

How The Probe Started

In fact, it was Sam's nephew, Commissioner Bartley, who really inspired the present investigation, which his uncle has recently been trying to soft-pedal. Bartley, sitting as he did on the inside of the FCC, saw the White House pull wires to influence the disposal of priceless TV licenses to big corporations, big magazine chains, big newspapers, and to Ambassador Jock Whitney in London, who now controls the New York Herald Tribune. Bartley, rebellious at this wire-pulling and concentration of power, took these facts to his uncle, the Speaker.

The Speaker in turn made an impassioned plea to the House of Representatives to vote $250,000 to investigate the independent agencies.

Today, however, the investigation which Sam started has backfired and he has been trying to divert it to other channels. For in the expense accounts which Dr. Schwartz found, there was around $200 paid to Sam's nephew by the radio-TV industry for travel expenses.

Actually this was chicken feed compared with the wining and dining of other commissioners by TV station owners. Bartley went to a couple of meetings of the Association of Radio and TV Broadcasters, expenses paid, but he did not bask in the British Bahamas as the guest of a TV station owner for six days, or ride around in the owner's private planes, as did Chairman John Doerflinger.

Actually, Commissioner Bartley has an excellent record. In case after case, he has dissented from the other commissioners, has voted against awarding TV licenses to big business and big magazine publishers. His record is one which does justice to the Rayburn name.

However, the $200 expense money got his uncle worried. He saw his nephew being smeared on what he called "flyspecks." Backed into a corner, the tough old veteran came out fighting. He has been trying to hamstring the very investigation which he started.

Throttle-Hold

Normally, the subcommittee chairman, conscientious Morgan

Moulder of Missouri, would have issued subpoenas and handled all the work of the investigation. Instead, Sam's close friend, Oren Harris of Arkansas, a better friend of the gas-oil industry, and the full committee chairman, kept a throttle-hold on almost every detail, reserved the right to OK the hiring of staff, and himself picked Dr. Schwartz, a Republican, as counsel. Significantly, the White House also checked on Schwartz. It is highly unusual to have the executive branch of the government consult regarding a committee appointed to investigate the executive branch, but this was done.

When it came time to subpoena records from the FCC, Harris didn't want to sign subpoenas, but finally agreed to send a letter "requesting" certain records. This was where Sam Rayburn first intervened. His nephew, Commissioner Bartley, would have received one of the letters.

The Speaker summoned Harris and Moulder to his private sanatorium off the House floor. His bald dome looked as if it had been over-exposed to the Texas sun. It was red with fury. In blistering tones, he told the two chairmen he was tired of the way their committee was searching for "flyspecks."

What he meant by "flyspecks," Rayburn made clear, was the misconduct of the individual commissioners. He wanted neither subpoenas nor letters sent to the commissioners. As a result, the investigators were barred from searching the record of FCC commissioners whose conduct, Comptroller General Joseph Campbell has testified, appears to be a violation of the law.

Earlier, Rayburn also stopped the committee from releasing a confidential staff memo detailing the charges against the commissioners. After the memo was printed in this column and later the New York Times, the committee held a closed-door meeting to decide whether to release it to all the press.

Harris argued they would be a laughing stock if they tried to keep a memo confidential that had already been widely published. Then he got a call from Speaker Rayburn. Harris came back and reversed himself 180 degrees. As a result, the memo, though widely published, is still stamped "CONFIDENTIAL."

The Judge, The Lawyers

By Bob Considine

NEW YORK, Feb. 13 (INS) — Former U. S. Congressman Irwin Delmore Davidson, presiding at the trial of seven New York teenagers who will go to the electric chair if found guilty of first degree murder, is the father of three young sons. The carefully picked all-male jury has perhaps a dozen or more other sons of ages roughly comparable to the teen-agers on trial.

The 27 lawyers Judge Davidson appointed to defend the seven on trial for the pitiless murder last July 30 of a 15-year-old polio victim who tried to take a swim in a racially-disputed New York public pool, have many sons, too. And so have the trial reporters, and perhaps even some of the curious people who queue up to get into Judge Davidson's court each day — as if it were a TV showing of "The Blackboard Jungle."

Maybe it is.

But it is a terrible and depressing thing for parents to watch, as it unfolds under the testimony of boys like Roger McShane, who barely survived the attack which pitilessly and without premeditation killed 15-year old Michael Farmer.

One winces at occasional laughter in the court, as swarms of lawyers approach the court for consultation, or Asst. District Attorney Robert Reynolds clashes with the colorful Irving Mendelson, one of the attorneys of a well-scrubbed, fine-looking 15-year-old defendant named Richard Hills.

It seems a great obscenity to laugh in such an atmosphere. For here is ultimate tragedy — whatever the verdict — tragedy based on poverty, the erosion of authority at home, divorce, desertion, bad schooling, a collapse of moral training, loss of religion, man's inhumanity, public indifference to seething racial problems, horrible housing, murder.

The sheer quantity of the defense lawyers has been questioned. I asked the judge about this and he was incensed by what had been written and said. His point was that in the interests of justice he called upon the best available men in New York and that had responded nobly. As a result, each of the seven defendants is supplied — at the expense of the state — with a known courtroom lawyer, a law book buff, and one or more investigators with legal training. They have all agreed to split the $2,000 the state allows each defendant in a murder case of this degree; thus the internationally famed James D. C. Murray, a distinguished man who can command many thousands of dollars to represent a client in court, and has for 51 years, will work for perhaps three months on this case for $500.

Some of the older hands around the court swear that the jury will never send seven boys — including two 15-year-old — to the chair. They guess the judge, in his charge, will present (rather than offer) other degrees of murder, other shades of guilt. Still others among the knowing would bet they all go.

It is the first trial we've known where the abundance of defendants and wealth of legal talent has necessitated what amounts to traffic rules. The boys are being tried simultaneously, and with conspiratorial overtones, yet separately. No lawyer may speak out of turn, or legal sequence. There is the added legal twist that when young McShane placed six of the seven defendants at the scene, by his testimony, a mistake would have been risked if the lad had mentioned also that one of the seven — and two others — ran him through with knives and left him for dead. For this is the case of Michael Farmer, his dead friend, not of Roger McShane.

The mother of Roger McShane, an attractive young woman with seven children and a thick Scotch burr, sat by daily as her son — under anonymous threat of death — put the finger on the defendants. The father of defendant Luis Alvarez, Ernesto Alvarez, sometimes brings the three other children to court to watch the progress — toward or away from the electric chair — of his son.

The oldest and wisest of the lawyers, Murray, has the youngest and, from surface appearances, the most foolish of the defendants, McCarthy. If the epileptic boy had been born 10 days later he would not have been 15 when the murder took place, and would not now be in Judge Davidson's court. Such courtroom crosses Murray has borne through half a century. But never at such a fee.

In the end it will come down to the judge's charge and the jury's verdict and, as of now, no body seems to have much appetite to go through with the horrid business at judicial hand.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

English prof at Vassar was impressing upon his freshman class the advantages of acquiring a large vocabulary. "Say a word over out loud to yourself five times," he advised, "and it will be yours for life."

A pert frosh in the front row closed her eyes and breathed ecstatically, "Walter, Walter, Walter, Walter, Walter . . ."

Rochester, Jack Benny's gravel-voiced associate, was recalling his early days in vaudeville. For one date at a carnival he rendered, "Swanee River," "Ol' Man River," "Rising Waters," and "River Stay 'Way from My Door." When he ended he clapped the stage manager on the back and said, "Fractured 'em didn't I?"

"Fractured 'em?" echoed the manager. "You all but drowned 'em!"

Things looked bad for Hades the day the devil backed into a lawnmower. But then he hurried over to a liquor store where he heard they retailed spirits.

Yes, indeed. There are exceptions even in the rules of health. Many factors contribute to longevity. Some individuals inherit a constitution that is capable of taking extreme abuse. Physicians wish they could take these people apart and find out what makes them tick.

Coccygodynia is a painful, neuralgia-like condition of the small bone at the end of the spine, which usually follows an injury. I had mentioned that a Lombard physician referred to it as "a headache in the tail" but a Chicagoan believes it "is more like a toothache in the tail, as the pain feels like an exposed nerve." As the saying goes, you pays your money and takes your choice.

TOMORROW: Decompression illness.

ARTERY OPERATION

F. P. writes: What does the operation for intermittent claudication consist of?

REPLY

In this condition, cramps occur in the calf of the leg after walking a certain distance. It is due to poor circulation resulting from Buerger's disease or hardening of the arteries. Surgery is advised when the obstruction is confined to a segment of an artery in the leg. A detour is made around the obstruction by inserting an artery graft. In some instances, the nerves that control circulation through the arteries are severed (sympathectomy).

RUNNING EARS

C. T. writes: What can be done for weeping ears?

REPLY

Eczema or ringworm of the outer canal is the most common origin of this condition. The causative microorganism must be isolated so that the specific remedy may be selected. I assume you have been examined and that the secretion is not coming from the inner ear.

COCKTAILS AT NOON

R. W. writes: Will two cocktails at lunch every day do any harm?

REPLY

This practice may not harm the body but efficiency often is affected.

TOMORROW: Our readers have their say.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Harold Schmidt Wins Top Honors In Turkey Show

Health Group Is Organized

MT. SAVAGE — A new organization known as the "Mt. Savage Health Group" was formed at a recent meeting in Mt. Savage High School.

The purpose of the unit is to render assistance to the sick, and assist doctors and nurses at all clinics held in the school. Clinics are conducted the first Friday morning of every month in the health room of the school.

Mrs. Catherine Mulligan was named chairman of the group. Mrs. Alice Shippe, secretary and Mrs. Amy Stewart, treasurer. Meetings will be held on the first Wednesday of each month at 1:30 p. m. in the school.

Accident Youth Raised 100 Birds

OAKLAND—Harold Schmidt of Accident took top honor in the 4-H-FFA Turkey Production Show held at Northern High School on February 8.

Second place honor went to Raymond Beitzel, third to Roger Beitzel, and fourth to Ronald Beitzel, all of Bittinger. Each of these four boys will now participate in the state contest to be held at Annapolis, February 26.

The judging by Grover Harris, Poultry Specialist from the University of Maryland, was based on the record book and the two dressed birds of each participant. Cost per pound of turkeys produced, feed conversion, mortality, as well as accuracy, neatness, and completeness of records, all went into deciding the top boy in the project.

Harold, a FFA member at Northern High School, stated in his short story about the project: "I had good luck with my turkeys. We used one at home, and one was killed by a vermin. . . I marketed 96 birds with weight of toms 28.41 lbs and hens 17.66 lbs. Under present market prices those turkeys were sold at a premium price. (Two birds were saved for the turkey show.)"

"I have learned much in raising and caring for turkeys as good poultry; good feed, and good management go hand in hand in raising turkeys. I learned to keep a project record book. I had good luck which may be encouraging to raise turkeys another year."

"To teach by doing" the economic production of high quality turkeys was achieved by Harold in this project which is sponsored by the University of Maryland Extension Service in cooperation with the Maryland Turkey Growers' Association, the Garrett County Turkey Growers, and the Maryland State Fair Board.

They were recommended by the county executive committee of the Republican and Democratic parties.

Grant County Court Releases Report On Cost Of New Memorial Hospital At Petersburg

PETERSBURG, W. Va.—The Grant County Court in regular session Tuesday, released the following information concerning the financing of Grant Memorial Hospital. These amounts give a picture of necessary expenditures before the beginning of construction, during construction, and the amounts necessary to open and successfully operate the hospital.

Construction Contracts	$619,686.97
Equipment Contracts	155,839.07
Architects Fee	14,531.54
Clerk of Works	1,000.00
Sewer Line	5,000.00
Financial Study	1,000.00
Memorial Plaques	240.56
Total Cost	$836,298.09
Federal Aid	$499,004.56

Operating Expense paid to Feb. 10, 1958	$ 5,000.00
Contingency Fund For First Year	30,000.00
Total cost to County	$372,302.54

Realizing that a part of the cost of the hospital would have to be met by the issuance of revenue bonds, it was necessary that a financial study be made prior to the beginning of construction. This study was made by a bonding company in Pittsburgh, at a cost of $1,000.

The items shown above which were not eligible for federal participation are: Sewer line, $9,000; Memorial plaques, $240.56; and the financial study, $1,000. These costs were items which had to be borne by the county alone.

Since the total cost to the county is $372,302.58, this leaves a present deficit of $32,451.20.

The above figures reflect only in part the necessary operating capital needed to purchase medical supplies, medicine, oxygen, food, bookkeeping supplies and equipment, housekeeping and sanitation products, fuel, lights, rental of telephone system, additional instruments requested by the surgeon, x-ray film and solutions, laboratory reagents, salaries of employees, insurance of building and contents and miscellaneous operating costs difficult to anticipate.

Based on 50 per cent occupancy, or twenty patients, it is estimated that the total operating expense will be $148,620. The gross earnings will be $128,091.60 leaving an operating deficit of $20,528.40. The present deficit of $32,451.20 plus the anticipated operating deficit of $20,528.40 will be $52,979.60. This cost must be borne solely by local funds as Federal matching funds can not be used for operating expenses.

The above, however, does not reflect the fact there are still $30,000 of revenue bonds yet for sale, nor unpaid pledges of about $3500, which when sold and collected will materially reduce the estimated deficits.

The hospital, as compared with other services or institutions supplying the needs of the community, is in a unique position. It is not owned, like a business, by its proprietors or stockholders. It is not publicly owned like the schools, the police or fire departments, or the Court House. The trustees do not own it; they have no personal financial investment in it. The hospital is not established to make money for anyone—it is so organized that no one may ever possibly profit from its operation.

Marshall Praises Garrett Firemen

KEYSER, W. Va. — E. Wade Thomas, Keyser, deputy state fire marshal who went to the fire at the Cornell home at Hartmansville Sunday expressed highest praise for the volunteer fire company of Kitzmiller. The unit was the first to arrive at the scene after driving over icy mountainous terrain for some 10 miles or more, he noted.

After the Kitzmiller pumper had pumped the well dry and extinguisher fluid on the truck was all used, the firemen attempted to halt the flames by piling up snow and throwing it on the blaze.

Thomas said the Kitzmiller firemen deserve great credit and thanks for the speed with which they responded to this call for help from a community in a neighboring state.

Area Farmers Hear Reports On Cooperative

Total Volume Shows Increase

BURLINGTON, W. Va.—Farmers in the six-state operating territory of Southern States Cooperative used the organization more than ever before during the first six months of the 1952-53 fiscal year, according to a mid-year report presented by J. E. Givens, of Richmond, Va., to members at their regional board meeting held in Burlington.

Total service volume for the cooperative and its affiliates, was reported at $94,512,000 as compared with $90,660,000 for the same six months of the previous year, an increase of 4.2 per cent.

Feed tonnage, up 10.4 per cent, was at an all-time high. Total tonnage for the period was 464,232 tons.

Fertilizer tonnage was also up over last year. Total tonnage for the six months was 86,906 tons.

Seed volume, which was up 21 per cent tonnage-wise, amounted to $2,172,226.

Miscellaneous farm supply volume showed an increase of 4 per cent. Total volume for the six-month period was $6,184,000.

The report also pointed out that volume in petroleum products was up over 2,500,000 gallons over last year while grain marketing showed a decrease. This was due largely to the extreme drought in the areas served last year.

The regional board meeting was attended by members of Southern States Cooperative's community advisory boards, directors of affiliated cooperatives and cooperative service agency managers. A total of 34 of these regional meetings are being held by the cooperative in a six-state area. The organization has over 360,000 farmer-members who live in Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, Kentucky, and Tennessee.

In addition to the mid-year report, board members saw a slide film presentation on "Board Members in Action," and heard a report on how the organization is keeping up-to-date in a changing agricultural economy. Following lunch there was a general discussion period.

Attending the meeting from the Cumberland area were Grayson D. Solomon, manager, Southern States Cumberland Cooperative; Floyd Buser, and Albert Kinser, Wayside Inn, where a program is being arranged by Capt. Jack Fessenden and his social events committee.

He dwelt, to some length on subjects dealing with interplanetary research and development and said the W. Va. University ranks with many larger institutions.

Next week will be set aside as Ladies Night, and will be held at Wayside Inn, where a program is being arranged by Capt. Jack Fessenden and his social events committee.

Hear Missionary

BERYL—The Rev. Keith Crim, Missionary to Korea, will speak at the 7:30 p. m. service Sunday at the Beryl Presbyterian Chapel.

Tender, flaky salmon muffins are a new taste venture—as different as they are delicious, as modern as the discovery of a new island at the south pole, and as logical as old-fashioned fish cakes, corn and bacon muffins or hush puppies. Serve them for breakfast with creamy scrambled eggs or for luncheon with a mixed green salad.

SALMON MUFFINS

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
3 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons sugar

1/2 cup golden shortening
1 cup milk
1 egg
1 can (7 1/2 oz.) salmon, flaked

Combine flour, baking powder, salt and sugar in mixing bowl. With a pastry blender or fork tines, cut in the shortening until it is broken into fine particles. Mix milk and egg, add to shortening-flour mixture and stir gently until dry ingredients are moistened to make a lumpy batter. Fold in the flaked salmon. Fill greased muffin cups 3/4 full and bake at 400° F. for 20 to 25 minutes. Recipe makes 1 dozen muffins.

Recipe from Test Kitchens of the Canned Salmon Institute.

Missionary Speaks Sunday

KEYSER — The Rev. Keith R. Crim, whose work as a Presbyterian U. S. Missionary, including teaching in the Taejon College, news of the denomination colleges in the Far East, will preach the morning service sermon at the Keyser Presbyterian Church. Mr. Crim is a graduate of Bridgewater College and of Union Theological Seminary in Richmond, Va. He has also taken graduate work at this seminary and at the University of Basel, Switzerland.

He will speak on the subject "Secrets of Success."

Presents Offering Plates To Church

PIEDMONT — A new set of brass offering plates will be given to Trinity Methodist Church Sunday by Mrs. Samuel M. Berry, Church Street, Westernport, in memory of her late husband, Samuel M. Berry, who was a trustee and a member of the Official Board of the church.

They will be dedicated at the 10:45 a. m. service.

Poetry Highlights Mt. Savage Assembly

MT. SAVAGE—The third grade student of Mount Savage School presented an assembly program to the elementary department Wednesday afternoon. The program opened with "The Lord's Prayer," followed by the flag salute and the singing of America. There were two flutophone selections: "There's Music in the Air" and "Fairies Music."

Poems written by Rachel Field have been enjoyed by the class. Sandor Crouch related some facts about her life. The following poems were given as choral readings and by small groups of children: "The Ice-Cream Man," "Taxis," "Skyscrapers," "The Animal Store," "I'd Like To Be a Lighthouse," "Fog," "The Dance."

Barton Firemen Dinner Tonight

Hungarian Dish Features Abundant Red Cherry Harvest

Arm Or Round Steak Invites New Recipe Thoughts

How often have you admired someone who excels in the preparation of foods of a specific country?

Certainly Hungary is a country well known for its famous culinary artists. It's a land where elegant dishes abound and a land where such seasonings as paprika and marjoram and dairy sour cream are almost considered kitchen musts.

Reba Staggs, a home economist who specializes in the field of meat and meat cookery, comments that Marjoram Tokany is an adaptation of a Hungarian dish which features beef arm or round steak, cut into thin strips, cooked until tender with moist heat, then combined with seasonings, onion, bacon strips and sour cream.

For those not entirely familiar with the herb marjoram, it is a member of the mint family. Its flavor is somewhat similar to the flavor of oregano.

Marjoram Tokany

1 beef arm or round steak, cut 1/2 inch thick
 6 slices bacon, diced
 2 large onions, sliced
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon marjoram
 1/2 cup water
 2 cups dairy sour cream

Cooked noodles, if desired

Cut beef into 3/4" x 4" strips. Cook bacon until crisp. Remove bacon, pour off drippings. Add beef and cook slowly until lightly browned. Pour off drippings. Season with salt and marjoram. Add en cookies.

water, cover tightly and cook slowly for 1 hour or until tender. Add bacon. Stir sour cream into meat and onions. Cook until heated through, about 5 minutes. Serve hot over noodles, if desired. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Easily Make Cookies

Whip up a batch of molasses nut drops to serve during the holidays or to tuck into school lunch boxes right now. You'll like the flavor of the crunchy cookies, for they contain coconut in addition to the nuts and molasses.

Lard is the shortening used for the sweet treats, and it not only adds to the richness of the cookies, but it increases their tenderness and keeping qualities, too.

Molasses Nut Drops

1 cup lard
 1 cup each, sugar and molasses
 2 eggs, slightly beaten
 4 1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
 1 tablespoon baking powder
 1 1/2 teaspoons baking soda
 2 1/4 cups shredded coconut
 2 1/4 cups chopped nuts
 1 cup milk

Cream lard and sugar. Beat in molasses and eggs. Sift flour with baking powder and soda. Stir coconut and nuts into flour mixture; add alternately with milk to lard mixture. Drop by tablespoonfuls about two inches apart on an ungreased cookie sheet. Bake at 375° F. 10 minutes. Yields 10 dozen with salt and marjoram. Add en cookies.

Tart red cherries set a new style in garnishing meat, poultry and dessert. They may appear as a smart relish, a sophisticated sauce or in sleek molded form to add novelty and zest to dinner.

Tart red cherries have flourished so well this year that the U. S. Department of Agriculture records an exceptionally fine and bountiful crop. It's good news for American cooks who like to go easy on calories, keep the budget down and plan varied menus.

It may be that pie and cherries are so firmly associated in your mind that you haven't thought of their many other possibilities. But just as soup can come to the table hot or cold, as an ingredient of sauce or casserole, so can cherries. The fact that they are turning up in unexpected places often makes them even more welcome; they come in the nature of a surprise gift.

In some parts of the world, people are not very receptive to surprise gifts on the menu. But, true to their heritage, Americans welcome new ideas about food. Then it turns out sometimes, as in the world of fashion, that the most seemingly novel ideas are revivals of well-established favorites or imports from overseas. Such is exactly the case with cherries. New Meat Relish of meat relish. It is easy to convert a can of red cherries into a dish of relish, with orange and lemon for sparkle, and fruit pectin for firmness. Add sugar and a dash of red coloring as a final flourish, you have a most interesting new variation on a classic theme. The relish will go well with most poultry and equally well with meats in the pork family: a roast, a ham or chops.

You can also add cherries to poultry stuffing with good results, using either a standard bread or cornbread base, or a stuffing founded on rice. And for those who favor duck, a prince among birds, red cherries make a beautiful garnish, either as the relish described above, in stuffing or in sauce. What red cherries will do for poultry they will do for pork, too. Include them in a stuffing for pork chops or make a sauce of them to adorn baked ham.

Easy Gelatin Salad

In a different vein, we move on to salads. Gelatin salads are deservedly popular with Americans; we appreciate the contrast of sweetened gelatin with the tart fruits and vegetables we put into it. Besides which, there is the extra visual appeal of neat shape and sparkling surface that a gelatin salad lends to the appearance of the table. The perky nip of red cherries qualifies them as a worthy ingredient for such salads, to accompany the meat course at dinner or to serve at luncheon with sandwiches. Mix the cherries with crisp celery and mold the mixture in gelatin, flavored or unflavored. Clear red cherry gelatin is a logical and pleasing choice.

Now we come to the cherry's traditional place on the menu, the dessert course. Once again we repeat: don't let your thinking stop with cherry pie. You can bring out the gelatin again — unflavored this time — and make a molded dessert like Bavarian cream. It's cool, it's smooth and more than commonly refreshing. On the same principle, but of course without gelatin, red cherry ice cream or sherbet is highly successful. But the cherries are at their most versatile if you turn them into sauce because in this form they harmonize with ice cream, pudding, custard and baked desserts, adding a novel touch.

Even at breakfast there's a place for red cherries. You'd be surprised (pleasantly surprised) at the effect red cherries have on ordinary muffins or coffee cake. Not too sweet, peppy and just what the situation calls for first thing in the morning.

Cherry Relish

2 cans (1 pound each) red sour pitted cherries (water pack) drained
 1 orange, quartered and seeded
 2 cups sugar
 1/2 cup lemon juice
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon red food coloring
 1 bottle (6 ounces) liquid fruit pectin

Put drained cherries and orange through food chopper. Place in a 2-quart saucepan; add sugar, lemon juice, salt and red food coloring; mix well. Place over high heat and bring to a full rolling boil; boil 2 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat; add liquid fruit pectin and stir well. Chill. YIELD: 1 quart.

Cherry Molds

1 can (1 pound) red sour pitted cherries (water pack)
 1 package cherry flavored gelatin
 2/3 cup diced celery

Drain cherries well. Measure liquid, add water to make 2 cups. Heat 1 cup of liquid to boiling. Add to gelatin; stir until dissolved. Add remaining cup cold liquid. Chill to the consistency of unbeaten egg white; add cherries and celery. Spoon into 6 1/2-cup molds. Chill until firm. Unmold and serve on orange slices. YIELD: 6 servings.

Cherry-Orange Sauce

2 tablespoons cornstarch
 1/2 cup sugar
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1 can (1 pound) red sour pitted cherries (water pack)
 1 cup orange juice
 1/4 teaspoon red food coloring

Combine cornstarch, sugar and salt in a saucepan. Drain cher-

Lamb Chops Sport Spicy Tart Topping

Here's a stylish meat serving priced just right for budget-wise homemakers. The meat cut in vogue in this recipe is lamb shoulder chops, a less-demanded cut. But in this case the chops are crowned by a colorful combination — an onion and lemon slice surrounded by a dainty green pepper ring.

For this recipe, braising is the method of meat cookery used even though all lamb chops are tender and can be prepared by broiling.

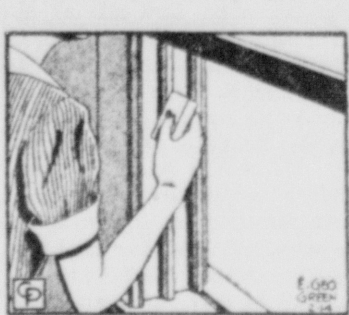

The braising method of meat cookery is used to add variety in the preparation of the chops. Tomato juice instead of water is used as the braising liquid. Reba Staggs, home economist, emphasizes that when braising any type of meat cut, the liquid should never reach the boiling point, but cook slowly to be at its best.

Lamb Chops—Tart Topping

6 lamb shoulder chops, cut 1/2 to 1 inch thick
 1/4 cup lard or drippings
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 6 onion slices
 6 lemon slices
 6 green pepper rings
 1/2 cup tomato juice

Brown chops slowly in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Season. Top each chop with an onion slice, a lemon slice and a green pepper ring. Pour tomato juice over chops. Cover tightly and cook in a slow oven (300° F.) or simmer on top of range for 45 minutes, or until done. Yield: 6 servings.

Balky windows will operate more smoothly if paraffin is rubbed around the edges and grooves.

Until liquid pure vanilla extract was developed by Joseph Burnett, good cooks had to make their own vanilla flavoring, using the vanilla bean cut up, put in a linen bag, then dipped into whatever required flavoring, as we use tea bags today.

Valentine Jubilee, new this season, is the perfect dessert for this hearts-and-flowers day. Who could resist a confection of fluffy angel food "hearts" served with a delicious hot sauce of spiced cherries? For a lavish touch, use your chafing dish to serve the steaming cherry sauce. This alone can make most any dessert seem elegant.

Then there's still another feature of Valentine Jubilee that will appeal to the man-of-the-house—it goes so well with after-dinner coffee. Naturally, the Valentine mood calls for a little extra lingering over coffee as the two of you chat and dream. Just be sure the coffee's your best—and that there's a bit more than usual!

Valentine Jubilee

1 small package (8½ oz.) angel food mix
1 can (1 lb.) pitted sour red cherries
½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon lemon juice
½ teaspoon mace
½ cup Burgundy wine
1 tablespoon cornstarch
Prepare angel food mix as directed on package. Spoon into 12 ungreased individual heart-shaped molds. Bake as directed in moderate oven, 375°, about 15 minutes, or until done. Cool in pans. Meanwhile drain cherries. Combine syrup from cherries, sugar, lemon juice and mace in saucepan. Stir over low heat until sugar dissolves. Add a little of the wine to cornstarch and mix smooth. Add with remaining wine to saucepan and stir over low heat until thickened and clear. Add cherries and heat. Serve hot over angel cake hearts. Makes 12 servings.

For a sweet Valentine's Day surprise, just serve your man-of-the-house Valentine Jubilee and fragrant, hot coffee. There's no better way to his heart!

Eat A Good Breakfast

Top hot cereals with preserves, jellies, or jams and flaked coconut for a new taste treat for breakfast.

Would you and your family like to—be sharper in your thinking and actions, be calmer and steadier, and work better, especially in the late morning hours? If your answer is "yes"—Eat a good breakfast and see if your family does not feel better and work better, especially in the late morning hours.

Scientists at the State University of Iowa studied the importance of breakfast on the physical and mental well-being of 70 subjects 12 to 80 years of age. After six years of research this conclusion was reached: A good breakfast is essential for maximum physical and mental efficiency during the late morning hours.

To complete the meal for an adequate breakfast serve fruit juice, buttered toast, a glass of milk, and coffee, if desired. This breakfast can be ready in just minutes.

Start tomorrow and prove to yourself and your family that they will feel better and act better, especially in the morning hours when "Food Comes First" and they start the day with an adequate breakfast.

EAST MEETS WEST. Lovely Miiko Taka, Warner Bros. new star, who steals the heart of Marlon Brando in the newly released "Sayonara," walks away with feminine acting honors as well as the plaudits of American audiences from coast to coast.

Oriental Cuisine Utilizes Occidental Appliances

Recently interviewed in New York, Miiko Taka demonstrated how modern Nipponese homemakers use an electric blender to grind fresh vegetables for soups, an integral part of every Japanese dinner. Raw radishes, cucumbers, turnips, carrots and cauliflower are put into the container with a little well-seasoned chicken broth. A flick of the switch and the vegetables are shredded to perfection. A dash of soy sauce is added and the soup is heated to the boiling point and poured into soup bowls. Sometimes a small piece of fresh or candied ginger is shredded with the vegetables. Often one whole clam per serving is heated in the broth with the vegetables and served in the center of the bowl. A nice touch for those who live close to the sea.

Allegany And Fort Hill Set For Crucial Test Tonight

Result Has Bearing On Four Title Races

3-Way Tie Possible In WMI; Valley Can Sew Up "B" Honors

LaSalle Will Host Huskies; Piedmont Plays Fort Ashby

Allegany versus Fort Hill. That's the piece de resistance on tonight's basketball menu as the city quint winds up their season series and also their W.M.I. League campaign on the Fort Hill court.

A Fort Hill victory would give Coach John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh's Sentinels the W.M.I. League title for the first time since 1951 and also would bring the Allegany county Class A crown to the Greenway Avenue school, thus entitling the Hilltoppers to compete for District One honors in the tourney at Fort Hill next month with schools of Washington and Frederick counties. The district tourney victor goes on to College Park for the state championship event.

By winning tonight Fort Hill also would tie North Hagerstown and Frederick for first place in the Cumberland Valley Athletic League at five wins and three losses each with two games left to play in that circuit.

W Allegany Wins

If Allegany, beaten in the series opener on its home court, 56-45, upsets the Sentinels tonight and Valley High whips Bruce High at Westernport, the W.M.I. championship race will end in a triple tie. There will be no playoff in case of a tie in the county circuit as last year when Valley and Allegany deadlocked at 8-2 but there will be an extra game for Class A honors between Fort Hill and AHS if Coach Chester Payne's Campers emerged the victors tonight.

An Allegany victory also would change the C.V.A.L. race and would put the Campobello outfit in a third place tie with Martinsburg at 4-3, a half game back of the front-running Hubs and Cadets.

Both Allegany and Fort Hill are involved in the city title race which LaSalle now leads (2-0) with the Sentinels second (1-1) and the Campers third at 0-2. LaSalle has returned games with both of its city rivals. A loss tonight would eliminate Allegany from the running.

Fort Hill takes an eight-game league winning streak into tonight's battle, having gone unbeaten since it dropped the opener to Valley on the latter's court. The Black Knights, however, lost the return game here. Allegany and Fort Hill will be meeting for the 47th time in a series that started in 1937. The Campers lead in wins, 32-14.

Officials for the game, scheduled to start at 8 o'clock, will be Glenn Shaffer and John Solic of State College, Pa.

Triple Tie Possible

Coach John C. Meyers' Valley High floormen, in addition to having a chance to finish in a triple tie for the W.M.I. League title, can qualify for the district Class B tourney, by beating Bruce tonight. Valley holds a 71-42 decision over the Bulldogs and will be shooting for its fourth straight county Class B crown.

If the Bulldogs upset the Knights, a playoff game between these schools will be necessary to determine Allegany county's representative in the district event.

Here's how the county races now stand with only one more game to be played:

School	W	L	Pct.
Fort Hill	3	0	1.000
Allegany	2	1	.667
Beall	0	4	.000

School	W	L	Pct.
Valley	3	0	1.000
Bruce	2	1	.667
Mt. Savage	0	4	.000

The third game on tonight's W.M.I. card brings together Beall and Mt. Savage at the latter place. Beall's league record is 3-6 and Mt. Savage 8-0.

LaSalle Seeks 18th

Undeclared LaSalle High School will be gunning for its 18th win of the season tonight and figures to beat Northern High's Huskies on SS. Peter & Paul court. The Explorers took the opener from the Garrett countians by the score of 58-44.

Piedmont High School goes after its 13th consecutive win in the Potomac Valley Conference when it hosts Southern High of Oakland. The Lions need only two more victories to complete a perfect season in the 17-school 10 o.p. "Huck" Miers' 1958 champs won the conference title with 12-1 in 1953, 14-0 in 1954 and 12-2 in 1956.

In other P.V.C. tilts tonight Fort Ashby is at Keyser. Mathias at Capon Bridge and Wardensville at Franklin.

Romney High's Pioneers battle the Martinsburg Bulldogs at the latter place. Hyndman faces Everett-Southern in a Bedford County League game at Bedford. Elk Garden hosts Mountaineer High of Thomas. Bayard visits Petersburg. Oldtown is at Flintstone. Hancock at Berkeley Springs and Harman at Circleville.

Walter Johnson High School invades Hagerstown to play Nick Scallion's Rebels and Westminster's Owls tangle with the Cadets at Frederick.

Play Final At Home
Potomac State winds up its 1957-58 home schedule by playing Newport News (VAL) Apprentice School tonight at 8.

The first meeting of the year of the Pen-Mar Baseball League will be held Sunday at 1:30 p.m., at Melody Manor, Barreilville, it was announced last night by Don Hansel, league secretary.

Hansel was unable to say just how many 1957 teams will retain their franchises but he stated that Salisbury, Pa. formerly of the Somerset County League, has made an application for a berth in the circuit.

Terps Conquer Clemson Quint

Maryland Scores 14th Win, 72-54

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Feb. 13 (AP)—Maryland's 9th ranked Terps beat Clemson without a field goal for the first 11 minutes of the second half and breezed to a 72-54 Atlantic Coast Conference basketball victory tonight.

The triumph was Maryland's seventh in nine conference games and enabled the Terps to tighten their hold on second place, a half game behind Duke which has an 8-2 mark.

Sophomore Charlie McNeil paced the Terps to their 14th overall victory in 17 starts, with 21 points. It avenged a 73-66 upset loss to Clemson last month.

Walt Gibbons topped Clemson with 14 points and Vince Youckel added 13 as the Tigers absorbed their eighth conference loss against three victories. Their overall mark is 6-12.

The Tigers trailed only 38-31 at halftime but withered after intermission against Maryland's man-to-man defense, which is eighth best in the nation and has allowed 37 points a game.

While the Terps were reeling off streaks of six and eight points against Clemson's zone defense to take a 57-36 lead, the Tigers managed only five foul goals before sophomore Walt Gibbons made a field goal with 9 minutes, 6 seconds remaining.

Tom Young, who was sidelined with an injury when Clemson beat Maryland earlier in the season followed McNeil with 15 points for the Terps and played his usual role as floor leader.

Jackie Pung Leads At St. Petersburg

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 13 (AP)—Jackie Pung today played the most dazzling game of golf ever played by a woman here, shooting an 8 under par 66 to lead the first round of the annual St. Petersburg Women's Open Golf Tournament.

She was seven strokes ahead of the field in this first round played in cold weather and with tricky winds making play even more difficult.

Her 66 set a woman's record on the 6,116-yard Sunset Course where women's par is 74 and men's par is 71. It was the third lowest competitive score ever shot in an LPGA tournament. It also was her grandest round of competitive golf.

Betsy Rawls was in second place with a 73 which was a stroke better than Louise Suggs and Patty Berg.

Marr Leads Texas Open Golf Meet

Dave Posts Sub-Par 63 In Bitter Cold

* BY HAROLD V. RAM

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 13 (AP)—Dave Marr, a Texan who's been going to golf's pay-window frequently in his brief travels along the tour, drove through bitter cold to an 8-under-par 63 today to grab the first round lead in the $15,000 Texas Open.

He putted brilliantly on the green of the soggy 6,490 yards of Brackenridge Park's snow-rain dogged course, taking a long lead over a field of 150 that generally found conditions too tough for satisfactory golf.

More than a dozen bettered par but none could come closer than six strokes to the late-finishing Marr.

Tony Holguin of Midlothian, Ill., champion in 1953; Stan Leonard of Vancouver, B.C., six times Canadian PGA champion; Dave Ralston of Orlando, Fla., and Bill Johnston of Provo, Utah, were tied for second with 69.

Marr, of Long Island, N.Y., has been a professional only five years but has been playing golf most of his life. He used only 27 putts on the hazardous course.

Marr has never won a tournament but has been knocking at the door since going on the tour last winter. His highest finish was second in the Bing Crosby this year. He tied for third in the Los Angeles open last year. But he's often in the money and ranks fourth in golf's winning with $3,364.58.

Marr's blazing round saw him sink a putt for 25 feet on the fourth hole, one for 15 on the tenth and another for 15 on the eighteenth. In between he was knocking in from 2 to 8 feet.

Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla., the defending Texas Open champion, and his brother, Lionel, of Lafayette, La., who won the Tucson Tournament last weekend, couldn't master par. Jay had a 74, Lionel 72. Doug Ford of Mahopac, N.Y., had 73.

Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., Texas Open champion in 1954, soared to a 77. E. J. Harrison of St. Louis, twice champion here, had 73.

Game Nets Shriners' Hospitals $253,056

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13 (AP)—The East-West football game Dec. 28 earned a record $253,056.26 for the San Francisco Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children, William M. Coffman, the game's managing director said tonight.

Receipts for this 33rd game surpassed the previous high mark of the 32nd game by $2,047, Coffman said. The 33-year total is $3,040,773.89.

They placed one-two in the world championships last year, when David Jenkins succeeded his older brother, Hayes Alan, as champion. Then Jenkins had a lead of about 40 points after the compulsory figures. Today Brown scored 993.5 points and Jenkins 976.1 in the six required figures. They were far ahead of their rivals in the 23-man field from 10 nations.

Keeping Up With Hollywood by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 13 (INS)—Leslie Caron, who flew all the way from Paris just to sing an additional song for "Gigi," is all but set for the Susan Strasberg role in "Time Remembered," and Edward Knopf has bought the rights to the Helen Hayes play and he wants Leslie to come back to the U.S.A., when he's ready to go into production.

This will be Eddie's first independent. He's been with MGM for years and years, and it was he who produced Leslie's never-to-be forgotten "Lili," one of the most charming pictures of any year.

Leslie is so changed since her happy marriage to Peter Hall. She's gay, bubbling over, and has really become a glamor girl instead of the little gamin she was for so many years.

I was curious how Marilyn Monroe could do "The Misfits," her husband Arthur Miller's original screen play, with her legal battle with Milton Green not yet settled.

Seems "The Misfits" will be produced as an independent production, and not as a Marilyn Monroe production. Marilyn will make it this year and she feels it gives her the best chance she's ever had for acting.

There's a rumor that Ray Stark and Eliot Hyman will take over Milton Greene's interest in the Marilyn Monroe Company. In that case, Greene would automatically be out of the picture.

The bidding: North 1 club East 2 no trump West 2 no trump Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Ten of spades.

South was certainly labeled for the role of "goal" in today's hand. He went down one in his three no trump contract when, to his partner's view, nine tricks were there for the taking.

Whether he deserved blame for the result we will leave to the judgment of the reader.

The bidding was right out of the book and West opened fire with the ten of spades. East played the jack and continued the suit as South held off until the third round. West meanwhile followed with the seven and then the nine, concealing the eight.

Declarer crossed to dummy with a club. On a diamond return South played the king and West followed very promptly with the nine. South then re-entered dummy and led another diamond in an effort to score trick number nine with the queen. West, of course, took the trick with the ace, cashing the jack and the eight of spades to set the contract.

"But, partner!" complained North, "after the king of diamonds held you had nine tricks by simply running the clubs."

It is amusing to observe the casual manner in which North refers to "simply" running the clubs. With seven cards in a suit, breaking them "three-three" is not a "simple" matter because the chances are about two to one they will not break. Declarer had, therefore, to consider the chances of the clubs breaking, against the chance that West has held up with the ace of diamonds.

There are, of course, other factors which enter into the picture, a discussion of which would require more space than has been allotted to us. It is for this reason that we have left it to our gentle readers to assess the guilt, if any.

Whatever your conclusion, however, be sure to pay a bit of a compliment to West on his shrewd refusal to take the king of diamonds. Had he done so declarer would have had no choice but to try the clubs.

FRIDAY—The programs listed below are furnished by the television stations. The Cumberland News is not responsible for late changes. All times are EST.

Leaguers To Sponsor Discussion

St. Paul's Luther Leaguers will have a discussion program on "Why Am I Lutheran?" at 6:30 Sunday at the church. It will be led by Fred Sammel. The Leaguers will present the first lesson of the Missionary Week of Prayer February 23.

Recently the group had its fourth annual taffy-pull and a progressive dinner. Taking part in the devotion were William Ritchey, Judith Ritchey, Eric Fable, Gary Bucy, Mary Lou Fridinger, Donna Trent, Cynthia Siehler, Jane Sammel, Fred Sammel and Rev. John F. Sammel.

Salt added at the beginning of cooking potatoes reduces the loss of mineral matter by one-third.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of James Eugene Barkley, killed 1 year ago today, Feb. 14, 1957. It's been one year now darling since we loved you down to rest. I did not want to lose you. But God knew what was best. And though your smile is gone forever, I still think of you every day. And love you just as much. The memories that you've given me will never fade away. And though you're gone forever, in my heart you will always stay. Yours, Joe Progress in research into the causes and cure of heart disease along with the activities of the Allegany-Garrett Heart Association were outlined by Dr. Benedict Skitarellic, at a meeting of the Women's Guild of St. Matthew's United Church of Christ, Bowling Green, Wednesday night.

Dr. Skitarellic, chairman of the 1958 Heart Crusade for Allegany and Garrett counties, is also chairman of the Heart Association's Medical Advisory Board.

He assured his audience that any individual can obtain up-to-the-minute information about the many home services available to persons with heart disease. It is only necessary, he said, to contact the nearest Heart Association office.

Following his talk, there was a lengthy discussion period in which many questions were asked about the Heart program and Association activities.

A declaration in which a local motorist is seeking $750 for damages to his car has been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Paul Raymond Wilson, 47 Blackiston Avenue, for his own use and the use of the Firemen's Fund Insurance Company, has filed the suit against William J. Shanholzt, 608 Virginia Avenue.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Leg Lines

With fashion's shorter skirts putting the spotlight on legs, now is the time to take a look in the mirror and see if your reflection satisfies you. Are your lower extremities too large?

Here your ideal leg measurements are listed under your height:

	Short	Average
Calf	5'-5 1/2"	5'4"-5'6"
Ankle	12 1/2"	13"
	7 1/2"	8"
	Tall	Very Tall
Calf	5'6"-5'8"	Over 5'9"
Ankle	13 1/2"	14"
	8 1/2"	9"

For trimmer measurements be faithful and do your spot-reducing exercises given below. After all, you get a return on an investment that costs only a few minutes in time and effort each day.

To reduce the calves, sit on the floor with the legs straight out. Slide your right heel toward body until knee is slightly bent. Without letting heel leave floor, straighten the knee sharply and slap the calf against the floor. Repeat 20 times with each leg.

To slim down the ankles, sit on a chair and cross the right knee over the left. Curl toes of the right foot under and slowly describe ten large circles with this foot in a clockwise direction. Reverse position and perform routine with left foot in a counterclockwise direction.

To learn just exactly what your ideal measurements are for ALL the portions of your body, get the handy calculating guide "Do You Measure?" A copy's yours for 10c and a stamped, return envelope sent to "Secrets of Charm" in care of this paper.

TOMORROW: Table Talk.

Behind The News In Business

by Leslie Gould

NEW YORK — For a year over which there seems so much doubt, the stock market in January gave a good account of itself.

In this department's tabulation covering 36 stock groups, 33 were higher. Only three were lower.

The gains by groups ran as high as 23 per cent. The general market, as measured by the Dow Jones industrial share price averages, is up a little better than 3 per cent — 3.29 per cent to be exact.

This rise in the market has been in the face of declining business, poorer earnings, reflecting the squeeze on profits, and dividends cuts and omissions.

What happened is that in the final months of 1957 under the pressure of unusually heavy tax loss selling, a number of groups were oversold.

Two examples are the airlines and the railroads. Investors evidently believe that the very worst has been seen and that any change can only be for the better.

The airlines, which as a group had the largest percentage gain — 23 per cent — have finally wrung out of the CAB an emergency 6.6 per cent fare increase.

The railroads—which as a group are up 12.9 per cent on the month — have completed hearings before a sympathetic Congress. Something is bound to be done both in Congress and by the ICC.

Factors in the market's strength, other than the improved technical position from the heavy tendencies by the Government. This was tipped off by the President in his messages to Congress and press conferences, particularly the latter when he said he favored deficits rather than higher taxes.

The Federal Reserve retreated further from its tight money policy, making the second cut in the discount rate in two months. It also reduced margins on stock buying from 70 to 50 per cent.

Not all earnings reports made poor reading. The two leading steel companies—U. S. and Bethlehem—showed record earnings for last year.

There were a series of dividend cuts and omissions. Pennsylvania Railroad deferred its first quarter dividend. N. Y.

Central emitted and Foster Wheeler also omitted. The last action brought a big drop in the stock.

There was the suicide of Robert R. Young, which ironically was followed by a Supreme Court ruling favoring him on his Allegheny Corp. recapitalization plan. The market took no notice of his death, but the shares of Allegheny, which he had headed, had a strong rise on the court decision. N. Y. Central, which he also headed, had been depressed for months, and held at bay on the news.

The technical feature of the market was its repeated attempts to break through the 430 level in the Dow Jones industrial. It broke it, but never finished a trading session above it. The following table compares the percentage changes in January of 36 stock groups with the two preceding months.

SRC To Draft Road Changes For County

Bridge, Route 36 Projects Included

Legislation is being prepared for three changes in Allegany County's share in Maryland's revised road building program. Allegany County legislators reported yesterday.

Del. Lester B. Reed, chairman of the Allegany County Delegation, said the legislation will provide for the construction of the Wiley Ford Bridge, improvements to State Route 36 from Barton to Frostburg and the acceleration of scheduled plans for the rebuilding of U. S. Route 40 from Hancock to Cumberland.

He said Joseph D. Buscher, assistant attorney general, has been directed to prepare legislation for the Allegany County projects as part of the revised road building plan.

Meet With Bonnell

Mr. Reed said the decisions were made yesterday as the delegation and Senator Charles M. See met with Robert O. Bonnell, chairman of the State Roads Commission, and Norman M. Pritchett, chief SRC engineer.

Allegany County legislators, he said, explained in detail to the SRC officials the most pressing needs in this county's road program.

Stressed, he said, were the replacement of the old Wiley Ford Bridge and the modernization of Route 36, from Barton to Frostburg, neither of which was included in the 12-year program.

Speedup Included

The legislators also pressed as urgent the acceleration and extension of plans for the modernization of U. S. Route 40 from Hancock to Cumberland.

Del. Reed said all Allegany County legislators, who have been very concerned over this county's pressing road needs, Wednesday night attended a joint hearing of the Senate Finance and House Ways and Means committee as the State Roads Commission presented a progress report on the road program.

He said the Delegation, at that meeting, pointed out that the present 15-year program fails to meet the needs of this area.

Helmer-Hedrick Corporation Formed Here

Walter N. Hedrick, LaVale, and L. Leslie Helmer, 407 Washington Street, have formed a new company to be known as the Helmer and Hedrick Corporation. It was announced here yesterday.

Initially, the new company will engage in the manufacture and installation of precast concrete products, such as septic tanks, burial vaults, conduit and pipe. It will also produce all types of steel storage tanks and related metal products.

The Helmer and Hedrick Corporation has purchased the modern plant of Pile Brothers, Inc., located on McMullen Highway seven miles south of Cumberland, and will conduct its business from that location.

In addition to maintaining a supply of hospital beds, wheel chairs and crutches for rental and sale, the new firm has arranged to take over from Pile Brothers the distributorship for Esther Williams Swimming Pools in Western Maryland and adjoining counties in Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Both Mr. Helmer and Mr. Hedrick are well known here through their former duties with the Celanese Corporation of America.

Mr. Helmer resigned last June 30 as Director of Industrial Relations for the Celanese Corporation. He had served as manager of the company's Amcelle plant here from 1951 to 1953 and prior to his appointment to that post was personnel manager of the plant.

Mr. Hedrick served as assistant to the manager of the Amcelle plant here from 1953 until last November, when the position was abolished in numerous Celanese facilities in this country.

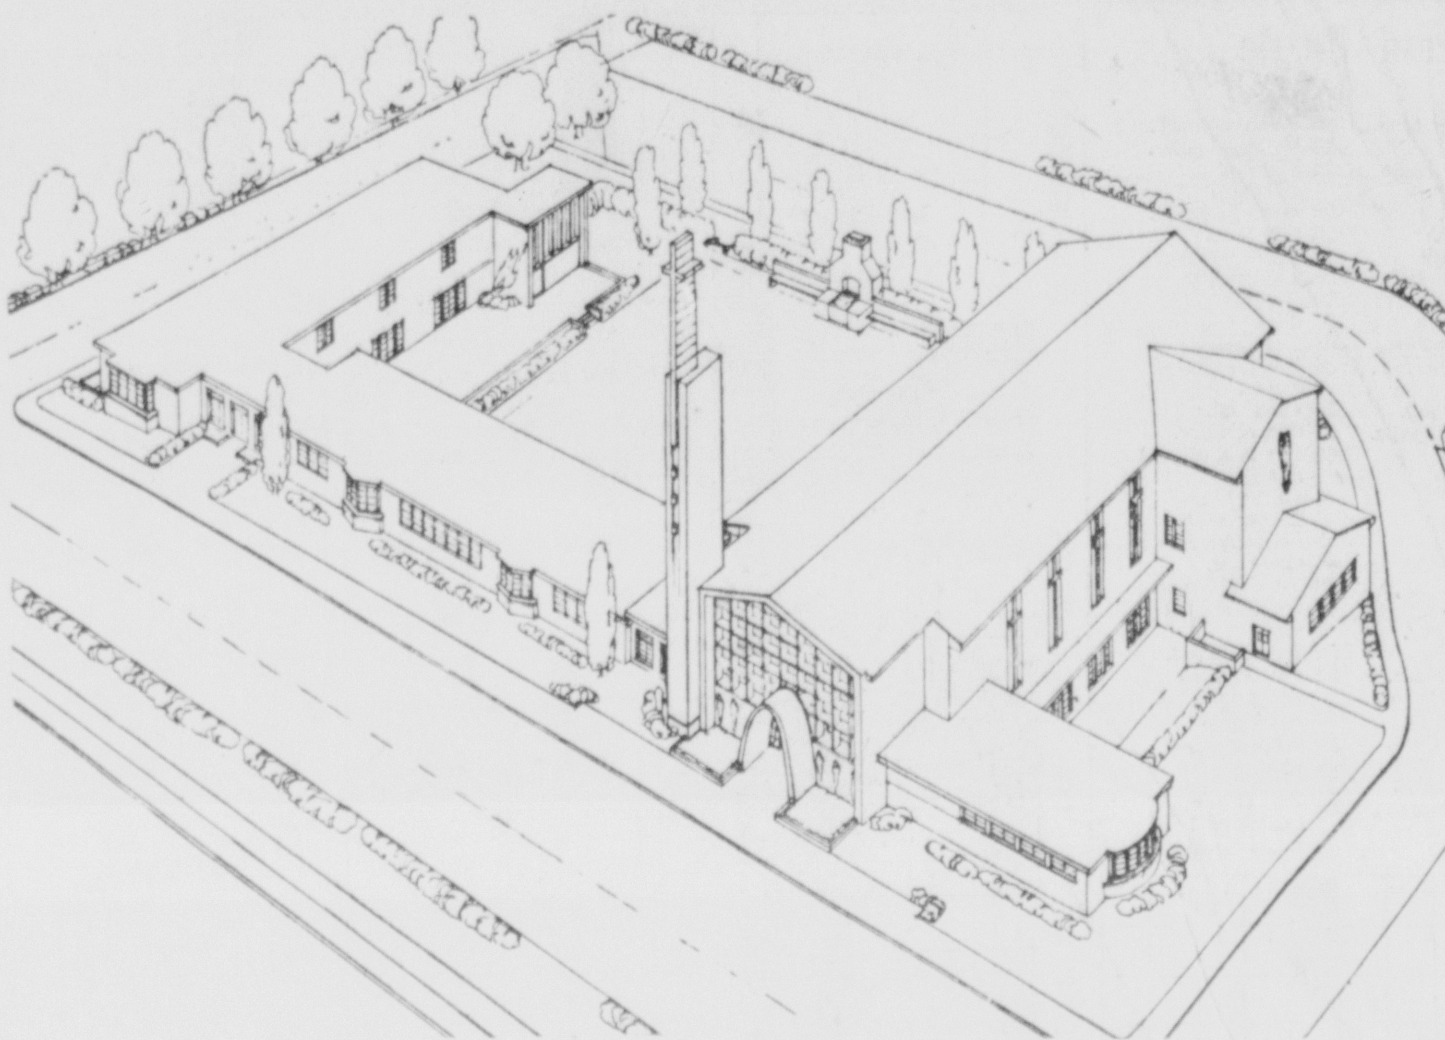

He became a member of the Amcelle staff following World War II service in the Navy. Both have been active in civic affairs in Cumberland for many years.

Proposed St. Luke's Church

This is an architect's drawing of the proposed new St. Luke's Lutheran Church, which will be constructed in the 1600 block of Frederick Street. The general plan for the new church won unanimous approval at a congregational meeting last night.

This drawing, showing the church as it will look from the air, was the work of T. Norman Mansell, architect and design consultant, Philadelphia, Pa. Mr. Mansell now will prepare final plans for the new edifice.

Congregation Of St. Luke's Approves Plans

Sale Of Present Church Sanctioned

The proposed new St. Luke's Lutheran Church, to be built in the 1600 block Frederick Street at an estimated cost of $400,000, moved another step nearer reality last night when the general plans for the contemporary gothic structure won unanimous approval at a congregational meeting.

The congregation also accepted the offer of Beth Jacob congregation to purchase the present St. Luke's building on Columbia Street near its intersection with Bedford Street.

T. Norman Mansell, Philadelphia, Pa. architect and design consultant, now will complete the final plans and specifications for the new church. They are expected to be ready for the advertising for bids about May or June.

St. Luke's new church will seat nearly 500 worshippers, according to Rev. William R. Snyder, pastor. The Sunday School wing will have room for 20 classes.

One of the added extras in the new structure will be a prayer chapel, which will be equipped with the altar from the present church. This is the same altar which originally served the old Town Clock Church, St. Luke's first house of worship built in 1848. That church now is used by the First Christian Church.

The chapel can be used for family baptisms, small weddings and for worship of the Sunday School department.

Other facilities will include the choir robing room, sacristy, general church office, office for the pastor, combination church parlor and library. The social room, equipped with a stage, will have seats for 400.

There also will be off-street parking for 125 cars.

Some $150,000 is now available toward the church building. With the money from the sale of the present church and present pledges about $230,000 will be available.

Local Police Quiz Suspect In House Entry

Police questioned a suspect in the theft of several hundred dollars worth of fishing equipment and clothing from the residence of a Gay Street couple who were burned out of their home earlier this week.

City Detective Harry Iser and Officer Kenneth Morrissey are investigating the theft from the home of Raymond Phillips, 914 Gay Street. Phillips, his wife and two children were forced to flee a bedroom fire early Tuesday morning caused by an overheated flue.

The missing items belonged to Phillips and a Tex Bowman, who roomed at the Phillips home.

Officer Morrissey said last night he spotted a suspicious car in the neighborhood of the Phillips home shortly after the items were said to be missing. When he attempted to investigate the driver of the car sped away.

Police said a gas heating stove and large picture of Christ belonging to the Phillips was taken. Also gone from the house were four fishing reels valued at $105; two razors, a metal helmet, $30 worth of fishing tools and flies; a pair of steel-toed shoes; a pair of dress, oxfords and two suits, all belonging to Bowman.

The items apparently were taken about 8:30 Wednesday night while the house was unoccupied.

Newsman Told Maryland Still "Free State"

BALTIMORE, Feb. 13 (AP)—Maryland's newspapermen were told today that Maryland still is the "Free State"—that secret meetings of government bodies have become a rarity.

The report came from Paul Broderick, city editor of the Baltimore Evening Sun and chairman of the Freedom of Information Committee of the Chesapeake Associated Press Assn.

He made the report at a freedom of information clinic during the 49th annual convention of the Maryland Press Assn.

Broderick gave credit for the encouraging situation to the so-called Open Door law passed by the General Assembly four years ago. The statute, in effect, prohibited secret meetings of government agencies.

Broderick said that of the few reports of closed meetings, the most chronic had appeared to be by the Maryland Port Authority, one of the youngest State agencies.

He said that the authority excused itself for holding closed meetings on grounds it had no accommodations for persons other than members of the authority itself. He quickly explained that this has been rectified and that the authority has promised to have its meetings public in the future.

"In Frederick City in November, 1957," Broderick said, "an alderman reminded his fellow aldermen and the mayor of the city of the existence of the Open Door law and brought about the elimination of closed sessions. All meetings of the mayor and Board of Aldermen of Frederick are open to the public and the press as a result."

Leading off the freedom of information discussion, Executive Director Victor Blueford of Sigma Delta Chi said a special committee of the professional journalism fraternity had found what he called a tremendous amount of needless secrecy in the federal government.

Snow, Cold Continue In This Section

This portion of the state continued in the grips of sub-freezing weather and snow last night was adding to the weather miseries of Garrett County.

Light snow was falling last night in Garrett County and high winds were causing drifts on some highways in that section.

The State Roads Commission at Oakland last night said highways were "slick" in some spots and motorists were urged to use chains. The SRC had trucks out early in the evening and all roads had two-way traffic.

No relief to the cold snap is in sight as the weather man predicted the mercury would again dip to near the 10-degree mark during the night.

The high is expected to reach only the mid 20s today. The low reading last night was 18 degrees at Constitution Park and the mercury only reached 22 degrees here yesterday, according to Robert G. Golden, local weather observer.

The defendant said on the day his wife was slain that he decided to commit suicide with his hunting knife in the presence of Mellott and Mrs. Showalter. He said the last thing he remembered was taking his hunting knife out of his pocket and drawing it across his own throat.

Under cross-examination by prosecuting attorney, William Van Horn Jr., he steadfastly denied stabbing the woman. The defendant said, however, that he did hear her cry out, "I've been stabbed," before she went out of the house.

Asked by the prosecution why he didn't order Mellott to stay away from his wife, Showalter replied, "I didn't dare to tell him he was not welcome. My wife was the boss." He continued, "I'm positive I didn't kill my wife. I have lain awake night after night wondering about it. My wife knew I would never harm her."

Clingerman Gets Building Permit

A local resident yesterday afternoon was issued a building permit at the office of the Allegany County assessing department to construct a dwelling in Election District 23 which will cost about $10,000.

Harry Grant Clingerman, of 470 Goethe Street, said it will be built on Ioka Drive. The home, which will have a concrete block foundation, will have walls of brick and stone. It will measure 26 feet by 42 feet and will have a cellar. The roof will be of composition shingle.

Bedford County Murder Trial Nearing Jury

Showalter On Stand In Lengthy Testimony

The William Showalter murder trial in Bedford County Circuit Court probably will go to the jury sometime today with the defendant steadfastly maintaining he did not stab his 35-year-old wife, Hilda Showalter, to death.

The 42-year-old Clearville man took the stand in his own defense yesterday to swear that he had not killed his wife on November 14.

In uninterrupted testimony Showalter spoke for 35 minutes giving his version of events which led up to his wife's death, the burning of the couple's house, and his subsequent attempt to take his own life.

Repudiates Confession

The defendant's story repudiated his earlier written confession which was made shortly after the slaying. It also differed in many respects from the testimony of Earl Mellott, 64-year-old Fulton County carpenter, who claimed Wednesday that he was an eyewitness to the knife-slaying.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania's key witness told the jury Wednesday that he had been on friendly terms with both the Showalters right up to the time of the slaying. This also differed with the signed statement made by the defendant which was admitted in evidence that day.

The Showalter "confession" was made at Bedford County Memorial Hospital four days after Mrs. Showalter was killed. In the statement the defendant admitted deciding to kill his wife 30 to 35 minutes before the fatal stabbing and accused Mellott of "running around" with the victim.

Mr. Showalter said at the time he was supposed to have signed the document he was recovering from self-inflicted knife wounds in the county hospital. He differed also from Mellott who claimed that the latter had given Showalter a job and tried to get one for Mrs. Showalter.

Showalter pictured Mellott as a man who tried to break up his home. He said his wife Hilda was boss in their family and that he was powerless to stop what he termed "just plain dirtiness" that went on between Mellott and Mrs. Showalter.

The defendant said on the day his wife was slain that he decided to commit suicide with his hunting knife in the presence of Mellott and Mrs. Showalter. He said the last thing he remembered was taking his hunting knife out of his pocket and drawing it across his own throat.

Under cross-examination by prosecuting attorney, William Van Horn Jr., he steadfastly denied stabbing the woman. The defendant said, however, that he did hear her cry out, "I've been stabbed," before she went out of the house.

Asked by the prosecution why he didn't order Mellott to stay away from his wife, Showalter replied, "I didn't dare to tell him he was not welcome. My wife was the boss." He continued, "I'm positive I didn't kill my wife. I have lain awake night after night wondering about it. My wife knew I would never harm her."

Other highlights in the defense were testimony by two witnesses that there were bloodstains on Mellott's trousers shortly after the slaying.

They were Espy Snyder, to whose home Mellott first went to telephone police after the slaying, and Richard Smith who said he was parked nearby and that Mellott approached his car and told him of the slaying. Both testified.

Scholarship Exams Due On March 8

Hopkins Awards Are Available

The Senatorial Scholarship Examinations will be administered at Allegany High School on Saturday, March 8, at 10 a.m.

The announcement was made yesterday by Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of public schools of Allegany County.

He said the following scholarships are open for the school year 1958-1959:

The Johns Hopkins University—for men only—two county scholarships open in the field of engineering—also two state-wide engineering scholarships.

Hood College—one scholarship for girls.

Maryland Institute of Art—one scholarship for boy or girl—the winner of this scholarship may enroll for evening school or Saturday school.

Mr. Rizer said the examinations are open to public and parochial school seniors of the county. Also eligible to take the examinations are high school graduates.

Those who plan to take the John Hopkins Engineering Scholarship Examination are urged to write immediately to The Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore 18, Md. and indicate they plan to take the examination. This is necessary because they must make arrangements to take the College Board Scholastic Aptitude Test that will be given on March 15.

High school seniors who expect to take the Senatorial Scholarships Examination are asked to write to the Superintendent of Schools and ask for permission to take the test.

This request should be made on or before Friday, February 21, Mr. Rizer said. Yesterday, letters concerning the examinations were sent to high school principals throughout the county.

Police Probe Hit-Run Case

City Police are investigating a hit and run accident which injured Raymond A. Talley, 41, of Grand Avenue last Friday.

Detective Harry Iser and Officer Kenneth Morrissey said last night eye-witnesses gave a description of the car which struck Talley as the latter was helping his mother descend from a cab as her home near Fifth Street and Maryland Avenue.

The impact of the car hurled Talley to the ground and he was treated at Memorial Hospital.

Later, police said, Talley's injuries appeared more serious and he is now under a doctor's care.

Talley told the officers he saw the hit-run automobile approaching and tried to get out of its way but was pinned between the cab and the approaching vehicle.

Several witnesses have been questioned and leads on the driver of the hit-run car are being probed, the officers stated.

Senate Rejects Bill To Outlaw Wiretapping

Turns Thumbs Down On Expanded SRC

By LOUIS G. PANOS

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 13 (AP)—The Maryland Senate refused by a 14-14 tie vote today to outlaw telephone wiretapping.

By an identical vote, it also turned thumbs down on a proposal to expand the State Roads Commission from three to five members.

Shortly after taking this action, the senators received Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert's opinions that three other controversial measures before them are fair game for consideration in the current 30-day session of the Legislature.

These are bills to outlaw gambling establishments just off the Virginia shore of the Maryland-owned Potomac River, to authorize the transfer of Pimlico's horse racing dates to Laurel, and to prohibit jai alai with pari-mutuel betting.

Abuse Is Charged

In debating the bill to ban wiretapping, most opponents expressed a fear that this would hamper police in their investigation of bookmakers, numbers game operators and other racketeers.

"You don't burn down the whole house just to get rid of a few rats," said Sen. Shipley (D-Howard) in asking for defeat of the bill.

Goodman and other city senators said Baltimore police had abused their authority to tap wires under the present law. It provides that no telephone conversation may be tapped by investigators unless the court has granted permission to police or officials in the state's attorney or attorney general's offices.

Debate on the Roads Commission expansion bill revolved about the contention that Southern Maryland is not represented on the present three-member board.

Sen. Wheatley (D-Prince Georges), sponsor of the bill, commended the ability and integrity of roads Chairman Robert O. Bonnell but said he is "not cognizant" of Southern Maryland road problems.

These problems, Wheatley argued, could be solved only by giving his region "a voice and a vote" on the commission.

Get Tentative Nod

Under questioning by Sen. Turnbull (D-Balto County), backers of the bill acknowledged that it was first voted down by the Judiciary Committee on a 6-5 vote, then was reconsidered and drew an 8-3 endorsement by the committee.

Sen. Redden (D-Caroline) told the senators he doubted whether a "five-man commission would be any more efficient than a three-man commission."

Among bills tentatively approved today and set up for final Senate action was one which might enable the State to cut about one-million dollars from general fund expenses next year. It provides that special, rather than general funds, must be used to finance retirement benefit costs of State employees whose departments are financed by special fund taxes—such as the gasoline tax and automobile registration fees.

Back Bond Plan

Later today the Senate Finance Committee voted a favorable report on a bill to pledge the State's credit to 15 million dollars in revenue bonds to be used by the State Port Authority.

It was explained that the bonds would be redeemed through the half per cent corporation income tax.

Doctors Give Mrs. Roeder Chance To Live

Police said last night that Mrs. Sylvia M. Roeder gave no reason for her apparent attempt to kill herself yesterday with a 12-gauge shotgun at her home, 813 Ashland Avenue.

Memorial Hospital attaches reported the 32-year-old wife of C. Paul Roeder underwent additional surgery last night. Her condition is listed as "fair" although doctors have indicated she has a good chance to live since the shotgun charge missed her heart.

Detective Lt. James E. Van and Officer John H. Sticher investigated the shooting which occurred shortly after noon yesterday.

Lt. Van stated the woman admitted before she was taken to the hospital that she shot herself, saying it was not an accident. He said she apparently placed the butt of the weapon against a box, put the muzzle of the barrel in her chest and then tripped the trigger with her hand.

In leaning forward to push the trigger, Lt. Van said, Mrs. Roeder's body shifted and the charge hit her at an angle thus missing her heart.

Police said Mrs. Roeder telephoned her husband after wounding herself and that the authorities were called shortly after Mr. Roeder arrived at the home.

Mr. Roeder told police later that his wife had been emotionally upset and ill lately. The couple only recently returned from a Florida vacation.
